

Fun Fair Starts Drive This Weekend

The 1972 Tri-Cities Area United Fund campaign to raise $410,000 to provide a major part of the support for 20 community service agencies and organizations will get under way Saturday and Sunday with the annual Fun Fair at the Wilson Park skating rink in Granite City.

Advance solicitations have encouraged the campaign leaders to believe that the goal can be reached for the first time in five years, Lyle F. Gulley, Granite City Steel Co. president and general chairman of the drive, said today.

At the outset, 17% of the total goal has been pledged — considerably more than the amount pledged by the same time last year.

"We attribute this encouraging report to the energy and dedication of the campaign workers and the realization by the people that the United Fund is essential to maintaining a healthy community," Gulley said.

More than 25,000 Quad-City area residents directly benefit from the services of the United Fund agencies and organizations.

Progress of the campaign will be reported at meetings to be held Oct. 13, 20 and 27. A final report meeting has been set for Nov. 10.

A breakdown of division goals for the campaign follows: Industrial Firms division, headed by Mitchell Milinski of American Steel Foundries, $140,000; Industrial Employees, headed by Ed Boyer and Russell Creel, $170,000; Commercial, headed by Donald Adams and Harold R. Fischer, $40,000; Professional, headed by Randall Roberts, $15,000; Madison County, headed by Lawrence McCauley, $20,000; Residential, Carl Mathias, $15,000; Madison, Mayor Mike Sasyk, $10,000; Venice, Dr. John Lee, $5,000.

Covice-chairmen of the drive are Paul Kelly, plant manager, who encourages the campaign leaders William Horstman, secretary-treasurer of the Southern Illinois Building and Construction Trades Business Representatives Council.

The best United Fund Fun Fair ever is the promise of the organizers of the event, which will be held at Wilson Park Saturday and Sunday from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m.

A variety of entertainment talent, celebrities, games, prizes and rides has been lined up for the fair, which will be opened by Mayor Donald Partney, John E. Lee and Mike Sasyk.

Highlights of the weekend will include hunting and fishing expert George Campbell, who will be offering tips for the upcoming deer season to all hunting enthusiasts.

Dunbar Improvements Recommended by State

Madison's Dunbar school building—focal point of a parental-school board controversy—is structurally safe but in need of numerous repairs, according to a state report released by the Madison Board of Education.

In a letter to Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, superintendent of educational services region, Roy E. Richardson, assistant director of school district reorganization and facilities unit, said that a "priority one" urgent requirements at the school have been met and approximately 80% of all "priority two" necessary items have been completed at Dunbar.

Richardson expressed concern however, over the condition of the gymnasium and said that at the present time it is not to be classified for public assembly (more than 200 persons).

"Should the school board wish to reclassify the gymnasium for public assembly, additional safety measures will be required by the architect," Richardson said. He recommends the gymnasium not be used until broken boards in the floor are repaired. He suggested 15 repairs that should be made immediately by the school board in order to satisfy the priority two classification.

He also suggested that a mechanical engineer be called to examine and solve malfunctioning in the boy's washroom plumbing which causes flooding when the main valve is open.

Suggested Repairs
Handrails should be installed on both sides of the stairways, and an intermediate handrail must be installed in the center of stairways over 82 inches in width, Richardson added.

Locks and chains should be removed from exit doors when the building is occupied and broken windows throughout the building should be replaced as soon as possible, the report said.

All gymnasium wires to the scoreboard should be checked to determine if they are carrying high voltage or low voltage and appropriate safety measures taken, it continued.

Richardson also recommended that a 46-minute fire resistant door should be installed to the maintenance storage room on the first floor and that a fire detector should be installed.

An additional fire detector may be needed for the industrial arts room and specifications should be checked, the report added.

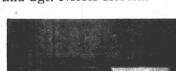

Other suggestions included the addition of fire extinguishers in the industrial arts room, the report said.

SGT. WILLIAM FANNING, Madison's first full-time juvenile officer, was appointed Tuesday. Named assistants to Fanning were Patrolman Charles Bridick and Sgt. Norris Horton.

GEORGE FILCOFF JR., appointed Tuesday as corporation counsel for the city of Madison. He succeeds John Gitchoff who assumed his duties as a circuit court judge.

DONALD BRIDICK, appointed Tuesday as chief of police, was promoted from probationary policeman to patrolman by order of the City Council Tuesday night. Bridick has been with the department one year at probationary status.

MADISON LEGAL POST TO FILCOFF
George Filcoff Jr., a Granite City attorney with offices at 1326 N. Springfield Ave., was appointed Madison corporation counsel by Mayor Mike Sasyk Tuesday night. The appointment was confirmed by the city council. Fil-coff will assume his duties tomorrow.

Filcoff replaces his law partner, John Gitchoff, who resigned Sept. 19 to accept a position as circuit court judge. Gitchoff's resignation was accepted with regrets by the city council. Gitchoff cited the "deep friendships" he made during his service to Madison and expressed his regret in resigning.

Budget May Delay
Dental Education
SIU-SP President John S. Rendleman last night said that the new School of Dental Medicine may be delayed if the state budget annual session trimming projected university spending by 15%.

If required to submit a priority list for budget slashes, he would suggest another year's delay in the dental school because — while it is vitally needed — he feels there would be less adverse effect on the total range of SIU-S services, Rendleman told the Press-Record.

The president compared the proposed initial dental enrollment of 24 with an estimated 1,000 students who might have to be turned away if the fund reduction was applied to some other portions of the budget.

He said he has recommended and again will recommend ending or sharply curtailing closed portions of Southern Illinois University trustee board meetings.

He defended in detail "public relations" expenditures by SIU-S, saying they are smaller in scope and amount than those of most Illinois state universities. He said no such tax breaks are met from state tax funds.

Dr. Rendleman also stressed that in every case where his personal living costs have been involved, such as when he has paid from his own money both the dues and specific bills.

In a number of cases there was prior documentation of such payments by Rendleman, but certain Northern Illinois politicians chose to ignore the evidence and falsely sought to damage his reputation, the president said.

Rendleman indicated that he has "taken about all I can stand" from individuals, agencies or others bent on smearing his public image. He said the impact on his family has been unfair.

He is president of the Metro-East Juvenile Officers Association and is a member of the Illinois Police Association, the Police Men's Benevolent & Protective Association of Illinois, the Madison County Police Association.

2 of 3 Plants Expect to Settle; Gov Steel Talks Continue, Union Says No Extension After Today

Settlement of contract issues in two Quad-City steel firms appeared imminent today, but prospects remained of a walk-out at Granite City Steel Co. at midnight today as negotiators for both the United Steelworkers and the company continued in session early this afternoon.

While neither the company nor the union would comment on the status of remaining contract differences, it was understood that only a few points are still at issue.

The present steelworker contract expires at midnight today. The union, it was learned, intends to grant no contract extension at Granite City Steel.

A U. S. mediator, Gilbert Kannenberg of the U. S. Conciliation and Mediation Service, St. Louis, was reported to be sitting in on today's negotiation session.

Settlement of contract issues appeared official at Granite City Steel Co. plants in Madison and Alton, and at American Steel Foundries in Granite City.

A spokesman at American Steel Foundries said that the steelworkers contract is negotiated at Hammond, Ind., for the company's four plants at Granite City, Indiana Harbor, Hammond, Ind. and Alliance, Ohio, but that local work rule matters are considered here.

All local issues have been settled and there appears no prospect of difficulty in completing a contract package at Hammond, Ind., the spokesman said. American Steel works approximately 1,000 on its work force, most of them members of United Steelworkers Local 3806.

Laclede negotiators were generally in agreement with only a few minor details to be discussed in a meeting planned tomorrow, according to union officials. A contract package already has been completed.

Approximately 600 persons are employed at Laclede where steelworkers are members of Local 178.

GSJ Not Included
Today's contract negotiations do not include General Steel Industries, Inc. where the present contract is to expire Oct. 31. Negotiations on a new contract are expected to get underway next week.

At Granite City Steel Co., approximately 2,800 of the company's 5,500 employees are members of five United Steelworkers Unions—Locals 16, 30, 67, 68 and 4083 (guards).

Other employees are members of the Bricklayers, Masons & Plasterers Local 68; Hod Carriers, Builders and Common Laborers Local 178; the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers Local 483, and the International Brotherhood of Iron Ship Builders, Blacksmiths and Forge Helpers.

Granite City Steel Co.'s contract expiration date is determined customarily 60 days after negotiation of the nationwide basic steel contract. That contract was reached Aug. 1 this year. Wage and fringe benefits of local contracts usually are based on the nationwide contract and for that reason wages and fringe benefits have not been major points in the Granite City Steel Co. negotiations.

30% Wage Hikes
This year's industry agreement provides wage hikes of 30% over the three years of the contract, a cost-of-living wage provision and other benefits.

Steelworkers at Granite City Steel Co. approved strike authorizations two weeks ago. Union negotiations are headed by Thomas Griffin, subdivision director of the United Steelworkers of America.

Puckett Pleads Guilty,
7 to 15-Year Sentence
Junior Lee Puckett, 21, of Madison, who was charged with murder, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of manslaughter and was sentenced to a term of 7 to 15 years in Menard State Prison.

The reduced charge was negotiated by defense attorney Robert Busch and accepted by attorney's office and was accepted by Circuit Court Judge John Gitchoff who imposed the sentence.

Puckett was arrested for the murder of James Dunning, 60, of St. Paul, Minn., in the victim's room at the Travelodge motor hotel here. He was bludgeoned with a soda bottle.

Mr. Dunning was assistant manager of the Pneumatic Tube Department of the Standard Conveyor Co. of North St. Paul, Minn. He had arrived here to be distributed to his new job.

GC Building Controls Pressed

The controversial question as to whether Granite City should reject building permits for new residential construction until developers and contractors guarantee adequate stormwater drainage flared anew in city council meeting Monday night in a move to establish a special sewer committee that would screen building permit applications.

The move is aimed primarily at the eastern section of the city around Lynch, Vescei, Waterman and Stearns avenues, an area that floods even during moderate rainfall, and grows out of a mounting interest by city officials in a state-sponsored project designed to drain Doherty Slough through a new drainage channel into Horseshoe Lake. Meanwhile, the drainage project remains idle.

Action to set up a special committee that would be created by ordinance and empowered to control the issuance of building permits was initiated by Alderman Thomas Boker of the Seventh Ward. Boker's proposal was met by objections by some aldermen that such controls would impede progress and development of the city, particularly eastward which now is the city's primary direction of expansion.

Flooding Would Increase. Other aldermen maintained, however, that unless proper drainage is an essential phase of building development, more and more areas will be flooded by increased stormwater runoff.

Mayor Donald Partney objected that he didn't believe such a committee would "get together often enough to meet its obligations."

Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward told the council: "All of the water from the entire area as far as the bluffs runs into Horseshoe Lake and is a problem not only to Granite City but to the entire county. We want the contractors to show us where the water is going to go when they build new homes, apartments and subdivisions."

"I don't believe we are progressing if we can't take care of our developments and we certainly aren't doing that if we permit building where it blocks or fills in natural drainage areas."

Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Third Ward objected that "we're cutting off the growth and development of the city if we do this. We haven't had an engineer and we've been derelict in that regard, but how do we know what the real problems are."

"You are taking over the authority of the planning and zoning commission and taking over the authority of the people who would know the real facts."

Wants Progress. Boker replied that "I want to see the city progress, but not at the expense of the people already living here."

He referred to one developer, "who wants to build a big shopping center and apartments, but he can't do until the drainage problem is solved."

"I believe that within a year of control of the draining requirements in new building, we can lick the problem," he said. Mayor Partney criticized the East Side Levee District for failure to lower the Horseshoe Lake level. He said he attended a meeting several months ago "in which Ebersoldt (Levee Board President) William 'Mike' Ebersoldt said Granite City Steel Co. would provide a culvert on the eastern side of the lake that would drop the lake level, but nothing has happened yet."

Parmley told the mayor that he had talked with Ebersoldt who told Parmley that he planned a further conference with steel company officials in the matter.

"That's the trouble," Partney said, "there's too many propositions and no results."

Met This Week. Parmley reported that the city council's Intergovernmental Committee met this week with a group of residents from the Doherty Slough area. Another meeting is to be held later this month, he said, to consider a cooperative movement which would speed up the Doherty Slough drainage project, an improvement that would greatly relieve flooding in the Lynch-Vescei-Stearns Avenue area.

The Illinois State Division of Waterways has planned construction of a drainage canal to relieve the Doherty Slough area of flooding. The waterways division will finance the project, but the East Side Levee and Sanitary District must provide the right of way. The district has been unable to acquire three tracts of the necessary right-of-way and has filed condemnation proceedings in circuit court.

Mayor Partney contends this procedure can delay construction of the Doherty Slough project "three or four years" and that the city should attempt to bring about revision of the drainage plan.

Suggested Alternate Program. During a meeting several weeks ago, Partney suggested an alternate program which would drain the slough area into the Nameoki drainage canal. The idea was rejected by John Gilou, chief engineer of the waterways division.

In its sponsorship of the drainage project, the waterways division has insisted that the responsible agencies as-

Veterans Not Penalized on Salary During Wage Freeze

This column of questions and answers on the Wage and Price Freeze is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about the Wage and Price Freeze and announced Aug. 15 by President Nixon.

Q. I'll be getting out of the Army in two weeks and returning to my old job. Can I receive the pay increases I would have gotten if I had not been in the Service?

A. Yes. Veterans returning to their pre-military employment during the freeze are entitled to all the increases they would have received had they not served in the military. Employees are hired at the pay scale in existence during the 30-day freeze period of July 18 to Aug. 14.

Q. Is the Internal Revenue Service the only place where you can get information on the wage-price freeze?

A. No. Information on the freeze and assistance with complaints is provided at the 10 Regional Service Centers of the Internal Revenue Service and the more than 2800 offices of the Department of Agriculture's Stabilization and Conservation Service, as well as 360 Internal Revenue Service Local Service and Compliance Centers throughout the country.

Q. Are welfare payments covered by the freeze?

A. No. Welfare payments are not covered by the freeze. They are not payments for services rendered and, therefore, are not wages.

Q. I'm a teacher. During the summer I received my master's degree and, as a result, I was to receive a pay increment this fall. Can I still get it?

A. Yes. Pay increments for teachers who receive their master's degrees during the freeze, because of certain educational requirements may be raised independent upon employees completing certain educational requirements may be raised during the freeze, because these actions are bonafide promotions.

The employer, however, must be able to certify that such an agreement was in existence.

Q. If the effective date of the teacher's contract is after Aug. 15, the increment must be no more than the amount that was granted last year.

Q. Can my city government increase rates for gas and electricity?

A. No. State or local governments may not increase charges or fees for government-provided services. However, state and local tax rates, and fees for licenses or legal penalties, such as traffic tickets, are not frozen.

Q. Can merchants pass on to consumers the cost of an increase in state or local taxes?

A. No. This is not permitted during the freeze.

Q. What are some of the food products not subject to the freeze?

A. Raw agricultural products, such as fresh fruit and vegetables, fresh fish and seafood, honey and other products that retain the same physical form they possessed when they left the farm gate, are not covered by the freeze.

All other agricultural and food products, such as frozen foods, slaughtered meats, etc., would be considered processed and subject to the freeze.

Q. The lease on my apartment is about to expire. I know my landlord has raised rents for new tenants in similar apartments. Can he now raise my rent?

A. No. If a tenant's lease expires, his rent may not be raised to the level being paid by new tenants in similar units.

Q. Can travel agencies raise their prices on tours in foreign countries?

A. Yes. Travel agents can raise prices on tours to the extent that the costs of foreign service offered in the tour package, such as foreign hotel rates, restaurant meals, transportation costs, etc., are increased. However, prices cannot be raised on that part of the tour package relating to services in the U. S. In addition, markup for overhead and profit cannot be raised.

The records of the travel agency must clearly establish that each increase meets this test. If it cannot be so demonstrated, this exemption will not apply to the increase.

Q. I'm a Federal employee and I'm supposed to get a within-grade increase next month. Can I still get this raise?

A. No. Merit and longevity increases, such as Federal Government within-grade raises, are not permitted during the freeze.

Q. My landlord is installing dishwashers in each apartment in my development. Can he use this as a reason to raise rent during the freeze?

A. An increase in rent can be charged for property which undergoes a substantial capital improvement, such as this, if this improvement equals at least three months rent (or a minimum of $250) and would be classified as a capital improvement by the Internal Revenue Service.

If these conditions are met, the unit may be treated as a new apartment, with rent no higher than that charged on comparable apartments in the market area. Also, your monthly rent must not increase by more than 1½% of the amount spent for capital improvement.

Q. Who is running the wage-price freeze program?

A. The New Cost of Living Council determines the policies of the freeze and the Office of Emergency Preparedness answers questions and investigates complaints.

Assistance with information and complaints is provided by Internal Revenue Service offices and offices of the Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Q. Can my union raise dues during the freeze?

A. No. Dues for professional associations, trade associations, business country clubs, etc., are a fee for service, and, as such, are frozen.

Q. Can my employer want to give me a cash award for the freeze?

Yes. Business and government can continue to make cash awards during the freeze for outstanding performance, provided that such awards continue to be given under the same formula and controls that existed in the month prior to the freeze.

Employers will have to maintain records on the incidence and amount of these awards which demonstrate that these programs are not used to give employees wage increases in violation of the freeze.

Boys Throw Firebombs Into Venice Residence

Firebombs thrown through windows at the home of Walter Wilson, 1100 Calhoun Ave., Venice, at 8:35 p.m. Monday started a fire which caused about $50 damage to the kitchen of the home.

A neighbor told police he saw four boys throw one firebomb through a window at the east side of the house and then throw one through a rear window. The bombs were bottles of a flammable liquid with cloth stuck in the tops. Police said only one bomb ignited and the other was taken to the police station for fingerprints examination.

Venice firemen were on the scene 20 minutes.

Two Shotguns Stolen

Robert Campbell, 2542 Lincoln Ave., reported at 8:20 p.m. Tuesday that someone took two shotguns valued at $200 from a gun rack in the dining room of his home during the evening. Included was a 20 gauge double barrel and a 12 gauge bolt action. Entry was gained by reaching through a broken glass in the front door.

City Halts Two Major MFT Jobs

The Illinois Division of Highways notified the Granite City Council Monday night that its motor fuel tax fund is nearly exhausted and that it should not continue with two street improvement projects on which the council had authorized a call for bids.

The recommendation which suggested abandoning one of the two projects was made in a letter from Robert Kronst, chief engineer of the Illinois Highway Department, district office at French Village, who said his office was reluctant to advertise both proposed street projects "unless the city can come up with a method of payment for this work by the time work on each section has been completed."

As a result, the council dropped both projects including the Benton Avenue job and improvement of Melrose and Oakland Avenues, although Alderman Claude Green attempted unsuccessfully to obtain approval of a motion that bids be called and the city proceed with the Melrose-Oakland project at an estimated cost of $117,000.

Told of Bid Action

Kronst said in his letter that he had been notified of the council's plans to call bids on the Benton Avenue and Melrose-Oakland projects, and added:

"In view of the fact that the city is presently accepting bids for contract maintenance estimated at approximately $50,000 plus engineering, and the subject sections (Benton and Melrose-Oakland jobs) are estimated to cost approximately $304,000 plus engineering, and the fact that maintenance cost each year has been running approximately $112,000, this office is reluctant to advertise both projects unless the city can come up with a method of payment for this work by the time work on each section has been completed."

"Our comments are based on the estimated MFT allotment for the next year, but do not take into consideration possible overruns on existing sections presently under contract, or engineering fees due on work presently under construction, or engineering fees due on work recently completed."

"We feel that it would be financially possible for the city to advertise one of the subject sections at this time and have MFT funds available to pay the contractor for work completed, as required."

Our records indicate your unobligated balance, including the August allotment, is $36,559."

Although the council abandoned the Benton Avenue and Melrose-Oakland projects, the aldermen approved unanimously a motion to award a contract for $62,678 to MacLair Asphalt Co. for overlay asphalt paving on five separate street sections.

That action was taken after Kenneth Kleberger of Research Planning & Design Associates pointed out that two bids received for the work still are 25% in excess of the cost estimates. The other bid was submitted by A. H. Seebold Co. at $67,176.

Since the bids were submitted on a second call because earlier offers were 33% over the cost estimate, Kleberger told the council that "it appears nothing would be gained by a further letting as seven contractors were notified and the work was advertised in the Illinois State Construction Journal."

He suggested the council award a contract subject to confirmation by state highway officials, adding that "because of the excessive amount over the esti-

Airport's Link to Development of Industry, Regional Unity Is Cited

Development of an airport in Illinois to serve the St. Louis metropolitan area in both Missouri and Illinois can do much to tie the two states together in a common goal in the best interests of the bi-state area.

This is the thought of Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, one of several featured speakers at an industrial development conference Tuesday at the Round Table restaurant. The conference, attended by industrial development leaders in Southwestern Illinois, was sponsored by Illinois Power Co.

Saunders said, with a seven-count, two-state region of 2.5 million people, we can no longer afford to think parochially or politically about the best interest of this metropolitan area. The economic future of all parts of our region are tied together with a nucleus of their common identity being the city of St. Louis.

The Columbia, Ill., site for the proposed airport Saunders said, was chosen by a St. Louis engineering firm as the best of 12 sites—six in Missouri and six in Illinois—from the points of view of convenience to travelers, minimal relocation of families and businesses, impact on the environment, air space and site development costs.

The need to act immediately on the airport was stressed by Saunders.

"The planning and construction of a new major airport takes from eight to ten years," he said. "In the airport business, 1980 is here."

"What should concern us," said Saunders, is the possibility of delaying the airport decision.

He added, "I am told that the indecision in bringing railroads across the river into St. Louis resulted in the emergence of Chicago as the rail center of the nation."

Saunders heads the St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority, created by the Illinois legislature, with five Illinoisans appointed by the governor, as members of the authority.

Upon passage of an ordinance by the city of St. Louis, the five Illinoisans will be joined by two—and eventually five—members from Missouri.

Gerard L. Boyle, president of Hollywood Brands, Centralis, spoke the factors used by his company, a division of Consolidated Foods Corp., in choosing the location for new production facilities.

"It should not be assumed," he said, "that all companies are staffed with experts in plant location and site selection."

"Much information, advice, counsel and assurance is required and much of this must come from the community leaders or organizations charged with the responsibility for attracting new industry."

He asked the industrial development leaders, "Are you in your community organized with the people, the information, the enthusiasm and the desire to bring in new industry?"

Based on his company's experience in selecting new plant sites, he pointed out that an industry needs to know about transportation and its availability and costs; raw materials—major ingredients, packaging materials, and such; finished goods—where an article is to be used and how it will be gotten to the markets, and people.

Of these, people are the most important, he said, since any industry needs skilled and semiskilled people, willing to work conscientiously and who take pride in their work and the products they produce.

Drawing the comments of other speakers together and speaking on "Is Tomorrow's Industry Looking at You Today?" was Howard G. Roepke.

for trained people also was reflected in a speech by Walter L. Bishop Jr., Hillsboro, Montgomery County superintendent of schools.

Bishop, speaking on "Education for the Space Age Society," stressed the need for cooperation of industry and the educational community in training people in skills needed by industry.

He drew on a statistical profile of students today—average age, education level, dropout rate, the percentage entering college and those entering the working world—to point up the urgent need for a revised curriculum for non-college students.

A proponent of area-wide vocational schools, Bishop pointed out the need for vocational training not only for young people, but for the retraining of adults.

He suggested that, through the cooperation of industry, business, communities and the educational system, such needed programs can be carried out to the benefit of all.

Drawing the comments of other speakers together and speaking on "Is Tomorrow's Industry Looking at You Today?" was Howard G. Roepke.

an authority on industrial development and a professor in the department of geography at the University of Illinois.

Preparedness is the key word for communities which seek to attract industry, said Prof. Roepke, and the attraction of industry takes work, time and money.

Since industry can make choices from hundreds of communities, a region that does not provide an organization which gives them someone or some group to deal with—including information which is current, factual and complete, and sites—has little to offer an industry, he said.

Available to help communities get ready for industry are the industrial development departments of the state, railroads and Illinois Power, Prof. Roepke said.

Welcoming guests to the conference was R. A. Blakeney, vice-president of Illinois Power, who heads Illinois Power Co. managers in the Granite City, Belleville, Sparta, Hillsboro and Vernon service areas of the company and industrial development personnel from the company headquarters in Decatur.

'The Fantasticks' Set This Week at Elks Club

"The Fantasticks," an original musical featuring a small cast of eight characters, will be presented at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday by the East Bank Players, in the grand ballroom of the Granite City Elks Club.

Tickets are available in advance from Players members, or may be obtained at the door immediately before showtime on either of the two nights.

Under the direction of Dick Peltz, the local theatre group will perform "The Fantasticks" in a simple setting which allows the production's script and musical score to create its own impact on the audience. The plot is topical and the performers blend satire and romanticism, bright comedy and serious verse in presenting the show that boasts an 11-year run off-Broadway.

Frank Jochimschmidt will be featured as the narrator, with Debbie Hightower and Paul Marvess as the young lovers and Bill Hoelscher and Dakin Williams as the fathers. Debby Blair and Susie Brockus Riddle play the mutes.

Nameoki to Study Plan for Police Protection

A plan to provide police protection for the unincorporated areas of Nameoki township will be included among matters to be discussed by the Nameoki Township Board of Local Improvements in a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today.

The meeting, which will be held in the Nameoki town hall, was arranged upon request of Supervisor Louis Whitsett during a regular meeting of the township board Monday night.

Whitsett also announced during the meeting that $5,000 received from Town Collector Edgar Patrick in tax funds has been invested in 90-day certificates of deposit. The board was notified by letter that Nameoki township is entitled to about $2,300 in state funds to compensate the township for loss in its property valuation last year.

The board authorized town officials to attend the annual conference of the Township Officials Association Oct. 25-27 in Peoria, and authorized employees of the General Association office to attend a meeting of the Illinois Welfare Association in Chicago in November.

Bill Limiting Truck Traffic is Proposed

An ordinance designed to limit truck traffic in Granite City's downtown area was placed on first reading by the city council Monday night.

The bill provides that it shall be unlawful "to drive any truck except for the purpose of making a delivery and then for one block only on any street so designated hereinafter by ordinance and properly posted with a sign."

It does not list any streets affected by the ordinance, but City Attorney Leon Scroggins explained these areas would have to be designated by additional ordinances. The proposal was met with objections from some aldermen.

Another ordinance providing that city employees who are injured while off-duty would not be eligible for sick leave also was placed on first reading.

Warriors to Host Kahoks In League Opener Friday

It could be anyone's game when the Granite City High School football Warriors host Collinsville in a Southwestern Conference opener at 8 p.m. Friday.

The two teams have comparable scores so far this season. The Collinsville Kahoks blanked Cahokia 14-0 while the Warriors stopped the same team 19-6. Collinsville played a 14-14 tie with Belleville, and GCHS downed Alton 7-0.

Kahok Mentor Lloyd Dunne is now in his second year, and should know how to use his 17 returning lettermen.

The Kahoks will use a 52 defense, with a five-man front, two linebackers and a roving back. In the offense they run from a pro formation and the pro "T".

Dunne has a fast backfield which includes Ben Milster, 6-0, 180 senior, quarterback; Larry Simpson, 5-10, 175 senior, fullback; Jack McClain, 5-8, 160 senior, halfback; and Tom Dickerson, 5-6, 145 senior, flanker. McClain has an exceptionally fast breakaway.

"I've certainly got a lot better idea which boys can play football, and who can't," Dunne commented. "We're not going to be afraid of hitting people this year, even though we are a lot smaller than some of our competition, like Granite City."

"The Warriors have certainly an impressive team; they are physically tough, but we just might prove to be just as tough. The boys have been working out with weights all year and are mentally ready to take on anyone."

The Kahoks offensive team will be Roger Cocker, 5-11, 180 senior, center; Jeff Herberts, 5-10, 160 senior, right guard; John Correll, 6-0, 185 senior, left guard; Warren Smith, 6-1, 220 senior, right tackle; Mark Frakes, 6-1, 177 senior, left tackle; Bill Burg, 5-9, 175 senior, tight end; and George McKinnon, 5-11, 155 senior at split end.

Smiley and Frakes are the leaders on the offensive line. On defense will be Gary Lester, 5-11, 190 senior at middle guard; Kevin Kingsberry, 6-1, 190 senior and Rich Bucher, 6-3, 190 senior in the line.

Defensive ends for the Kahoks are John Stephens, 5-11, 160 senior, and Fred Coffin, 5-10, 160 senior.

Mike Faust, 6-1, 160 junior and Tom Jackstadt, 6-2, 190 senior are the linebackers.

Cornerbacks are Chuck Domino, 5-8, 165 senior and Ray DeLuca, 5-9, 155 senior.

Safeties are Kent Ward, 5-7, 155 senior, and Richard Marks, 6-1, 160 junior.

Last season the Warriors beat Collinsville 27-7, but Warrior Coach Wayne Williams told the Press-Record, "This looks like the best team Collinsville has had in years. We are going to have a real challenge to be ready for them, and we are going to have a week of real tough practice."

"We looked dead the first half against Cahokia and were not executing our plays. The fans were very disappointed and had a real effect on the mental attitude of the team. We are going to need a lot of enthusiastic fans Friday to help us beat the Kahoks."

No major changes in the lineup are anticipated by the Warriors.

Granite City High School cross country team defeated Cahokia 20-41 Tuesday on the local course.

Mike Adams finished 1st in 16:29; Mark Ortiz, 3rd, 17:14; Tom Bull, 4th, 17:18; Pat Olsen, 5th, 17:45; and Rick Paschedag, 7th in 18:19.

Bowie Bryant, who has been burning up the paths, was slowed by illness, though he still finished 9th in 18:21.

Tom Stephens came in first for GC junior varsity, which also won 20-41, in 17:55. Jeff Schleicher was 3rd, in 18:36; Mark Richard, 4th, 18:54; Mark Loftus, 5th, 19:03; and Bill Grady, 7th, 19:25.

The GCHS Warriors travel to Assumption for a meet at 4 p.m. Thursday.

WINNING CHARGE. The Warrior soccer squad opened its season yesterday afternoon with a 2-0 victory over St. John's of St. Louis. Here Dan Noeth, in white shirt center, outruns a Lion to take control of the ball as teammates Perry Dillard, left, and Steve Burdge position themselves for a pass. Noeth was credited with an unassisted goal during the second half of yesterday's game.

Warrior Kickers Open Season With 2-0 Win

What appears to be another great season for the Warrior soccer squad opened yesterday afternoon with a successful 2-0 game here against St. John's of St. Louis.

The Warriors of Granite City High School, although not in top shape, had complete command as they took the field and managed to keep the Lions on the defensive about 80% of the game.

First-game enthusiasm was obvious as several one-man attacks on goal by Granite City kickers went wide or high or directly to the goalie, but also a short pep talk at half-time from new Warrior Coach John Selimier, more effort was concentrated on teamwork.

Carl Duke picked up a pass from Randy Worthen to score 16 minutes into the second half, and eight minutes later Dan Noeth spotted a straight up line from center field and booted an unassisted goal.

The Warriors made 17 attempts on goal to only five for the Lions, the team which is favored to win the championship in the St. Louis Metropolitan High School Soccer League this season.

Despite the victory, Coach Selimier was cautious about the shape of his players. "We are going to be doing more running in practice this week to try to get the boys in better condition." "The heat yesterday really affected us," he added.

The Warriors enter a full week next week with a game

Pins Fly Fast In Classic Loop

The pins were flying viciously last night at the Bowland Lanes as the Max Legate Memorial Classic League reached its peak in the young season.

Michel's Jewelry deluged, "rained out" as the score sheet read, Comfort Heating as Mel Scott had a near miss with a 289 game, and a 760 series. It was the best effort since Jake Marti of Comfort opened the season two years ago.

Scott's teammate Mike Sues came through with a 278 game, and the winners topped the league with the high game of 1,166 pins and series of 3,247 topping Comfort by nearly 500. Also just missing a perfect game with 289 pins was Al Kutera of Tri-City Speedway who finished with a 685 series.

Trojans to Face Robinson, Seeking Initial Victory

The Madison High School Trojans will try for their first victory over Robinson, Ill., visits here at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Madison is plagued with an inexperienced ball club, having two seniors in Ed Chandler and Ron Stern who have played four years.

There is no junior high football program in the Madison school system, and according to Fred Riddle, school superintendent, none is slated in the near future. Students wishing to play football in Madison must wait until they enter the ninth grade. Consequently, the Madison Freshmen haven't tasted victory in some time.

The Trojans must also play four freshmen on the varsity level to give the team depth. Madison is playing an independent season this year as four members of the former six-school Midwestern Conference withdrew, forming a new conference without MHS and Dupont. The Maroons of Robinson play in the four school Apollo Conference consisting of Charleston, Newton and Paris. Last season they were 5-4 (won-loss) and 2-1 in their conference. The head mentor for the Maroons is Larry Higgins who has been coaching 10 years, nine with Robinson.

Robinson High School has a student population of 800 in four grades. MHS has 630. To date the Maroons have a 1-1 record. They lost their opener to Lawrenceville 22-13, but came back to beat Casey 28-0 last week.

In the Casey game halfback Steve Burner gained more than 100 yards rushing and scored three touchdowns. Fullback Mac McCracken, 6-1, 185 junior is also a good run power runner and will be hard to stop.

The other gridirers in the Maroon backfield are Tony Butcher, 6-6, 160 junior quarterback, and Kris Kaley, 5-8, 155 senior right half.

Defensive halfback will be John McKeighan, 5-10, 160 junior, in addition to Kaley and Burner. Butcher and McCracken play defensive line backers.

The inside line for the Maroons, in addition to Bailey, McBride and Quick, will be Roger Weisman, 6-3, 215 junior; Jeff Loughey, 6-2, 200 senior; and David Renshaw, 5-7, 185 junior.

SIU-SW'S CARENZA BEATS Akron's All-American to the ball—Rich Parkinson, in dark uniform at left, the University of Akron's great All-American soccer player, has ball stolen from him by Southern Illinois University's Southwestern top scorer, John Carenza, in early action last Saturday as the Cougars opened their home season with a 4-0 victory. Seconds later Carenza passed off to his sophomore brother, Chris (in background), who flipped the ball back to Big John for the first of two goals made by John.

Cougars Set For Rockhurst On Saturday

The Southern Illinois University-Southwestern soccer Cougars will face a stiff test Saturday when they host Rockhurst College of Kansas City at 1:30 p.m.

Cougar Tony Tocco's Hawks are mostly from the St. Louis area and are considered to be one of the toughest small school soccer powers in the nation.

The Cougars are now 2-0 for the regular season following a convincing 4-0 victory over a strong University of Akron team last Saturday.

Playing important roles in the Cougars' control of the ball is a stout defensive alignment starting with goalie Rick Benben.

In front of him is Rich Neitzert, Denny Driscoll, Tom Galati or Tim Putnam, and a Vince Fassi and Kevin Howe. Their teamwork is offensively oriented and often they will advance far beyond the normal field position found on U.S. college teams.

It'll be teacher against pupil as Tocco played his college soccer for St. Louis University under the tutelage of SIU-SW's varsity coach, Bob Guelker. Tocco was a goalie for the Billikins.

Tocco doesn't try to hide his hopes of upsetting the nationally ranked Cougars. "It'd give us a tremendous boost," he admits, "and, we have just the type of club which could turn the trick."

"All our players know each and every one of the SIU-SW players, their strengths and weaknesses, and besides, the pressure will be on the Cougars. I know Coach (Guelker) won't let his boys become overconfident, but they are human and it could be just that way and therein lies our opportunity. Last year, our game plan was score first and hold on and hope to win, 1-0. We almost turned the trick."

Guelker commented: "Their first goal was a very important score and did force us to play a different type of game, one which we normally don't prefer, but more crucial was the small size of their field. It's very narrow and on our field here they won't have that advantage."

SIU-SW hopes for the season

Jackson Of Trojans Sets Record

Harrier Kevin Jackson set a new record of 13:34 for the 2.3-mile Madison High School course but his local cross country team bowed 29-54 to Roxana Monday.

The old record was set Oct. 22 by Trojan Ray Dailey in 14:26 against Venice.

Second through eighth places were taken by Roxana runners. Dailey came in ninth in 14:37.

Venue returns to the MHS course to test the Trojans again at 3:30 p.m. today.

Inter-City Playoff Location Changed
The second game of the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League playoff series will be played at East Alton's Vanceter Park rather than at Troy, at 2 p.m. Sunday, Ollie Miller, league president, announced.

Mellor Motors of Collinsville, 10-2 loser to the Machinists of East Alton, will attempt to prevent a sudden end of the series. Location of a third game if needed to determine the championship will be decided later.

bolstered Monday when leading scorer John Carenza, whose right leg has been giving him trouble, was okayed by Cougar team physician Dr. Emerson Carpenter and an Alton doctor. It had been feared that Carenza's leg might have been developing a calcium condition which would have sidelined him for the remainder of the campaign.

Artist-Homemaker Honorary Ecuador Vice-Consul Here

Artist Giti Newman Maier, wife of Georg Maier, a social science professor at SIU-SW, is honorary vice consul for Ecuador to the St. Louis metropolitan area.

In addition to being a political envoy of Ecuador, the international-minded Mrs. Maier is representing her country in two biennial art exhibits which opened this month—one at the Museum of Modern Art in Paris, France, and another at the visual arts exhibit in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Born in Prague, Czechoslovakia, Mrs. Maier moved with her parents to Ecuador when she was five. She and her husband met in Quito in 1934 while he was doing doctoral research. A native of Bulgaria, Maier received his doctorate from SIU-Carbondale in 1963.

"If my husband had been Ecuadorian, he would probably have been appointed honorary vice consul instead of me," Mrs. Maier says, "but a law passed not long ago declares that one must be a native to be a member of the consulate." Her appointment came quite by accident, she says. While in Ecuador this year, she and her husband, whose field is Ecuadorian politics, were invited through a mutual friend to a luncheon with Jose Maria Velasco, Ibarra, the president of Ecuador.

When President Velasco learned the Maier's lives in St. Louis, he said, "My country is not very well represented in that area. Something should be done about it."

Although he mentioned the possibility of her appointment, Mrs. Maier says she thought no more about the conversation until she received her official appointment in June.

Some of her duties as honorary vice consul include issuing passports or renewing them, trying to promote her country by making products of Ecuador known, and keeping up good relations with other consuls. "I am also interested in promoting a student exchange program," she says.

Giti Maier has another Ecuadorian interest which she shares with her husband—collecting archeological objects. "Our collection is not a big one," she says modestly, "but it is one we are proud of. It has in it pieces of the first ceramic culture known to this continent—called Valdivia—from four to five thousand years old.

New Oil Discoveries

"Because of the oil discoveries in Ecuador, that country is going to be making headlines," Mrs. Maier says. "It will be more than a dot on the map, so we need to know something about the history and pre-Columbian culture of Ecuador."

"We spent years putting our collection together," the SIU-SW wife and mother says. "My husband went on expeditions and found some of it. Some we bought from persons we trusted. Many fakes are being made today, so we have to be on guard."

"Color, thickness of the clay and the special markings help determine authenticity."

During the past year, which she spent in Europe and Ecuador, Mrs. Maier exhibited her art work at the Ethnological Museum in Vienna. The show was later taken to Graz, Austria.

In Ecuador she won second prize in the national jury qualifying exhibit in Quito, held at the House of Ecuadorian Culture in August 1970.

Her one-person show in Quito spread a full-page color report in El Comercio, Quito's largest newspaper. A one-person show in Guayaquil also received favorable reviews.

Mrs. Maier began studying art in the workshops of Ecuadorian artists when she was ten. She also studied with Lloyd Wolf, at the Academy of the Association of Plastic Artists of Ecuador and at SIU-SW.

OUTING FOR BROWNIES

AT CAHOKIA MOUNDS

Brownies of Troop 366, sponsored by the Parkway PTA, held their first outing of the year. The girls met at the school with the leaders, Mrs. Joanna Spencer and Mrs. Lora Lombardi, and traveled to Cahokia Mounds State Park.

Officers of the troop to serve for the next two months are: president, Beth Herbst, secretary, Karen Spencer, and Kathy Macios, scribe.

While at the park the troop toured the museum, and one of the guides showed several items recently excavated, including pottery more than 1,000 years old. They hiked to the top of the 100-foot Mounds Mound, returning to their picnic site for a wienner roast.

Mothers who assisted were Mrs. Betty Coleman and Mrs. Sally Herbst. Summer birthdays were celebrated and those recognized were Kimie Coleman, Leah Lombardi and Shari Locondra.

City Allotted $73,960 for Emergency Work Program

Granite City will receive $73,960 in federal funds to hire workers in a new phase of the Madison County Emergency Work program. City council members were informed Monday night by Dan Churovich, director of the county program.

To qualify for the grant, council members approved a local share of $8,520 to bring to $82,380 the total fund available for hiring presently unemployed persons.

The city's $73,960 allocation is part of a $185,000 fund approved as an addition to the Madison County work program last week. Previously the county had been allocated $308,600 which was increased to $441,000 by the county's local share. Churovich explained that the intends to divide the additional $185,000 between Granite City, Alton and Collinsville, the three largest cities in Madison County, on a population basis. He said Alton will be given about $70,000 and Collinsville about $42,000. Each city must provide a matching share equivalent to 25% of its grant.

Must Be Unemployed

In response to questions by the aldermen, Churovich told the council the city may hire employees for any purpose, so long as the persons hired are unemployed. He said applications for jobs are made to his office and that he will supply to the city a list of Granite City applicants. He said hiring should be done from the list that he provides, but that the city may employ anyone on the list. He said hiring procedure may be handled in any way the city sees fit, either by a committee, by the mayor or by the department heads.

Alderman Sam Whitmer raised the question of using the funds to employ additional police and firemen, pointing out that appointments to those departments are made from lists of men who have qualified by examination. Churovich said men could be employed from the qualifying list so long as they are not employed at the time they are hired. He said a person cannot quit a previous job to accept employment under the program.

Since the present work program is for a one-year period, several aldermen questioned the feasibility of naming employees on a permanent basis, since the grants may not be renewed to guarantee salaries beyond the one-year period.

Investigator Named In Paul Powell Case

Atty. Gen. William J. Scott today announced his appointment of Bernard Carey, chief of Scott's special prosecutions unit, to replace C. Waldo Ackerman in the investigation and prosecution of all matters pertaining to the Paul Powell case. Ackerman, who had been in charge of these proceedings, was recently appointed by the Illinois Supreme Court to fill a vacancy as circuit judge in the Seventh Judicial District.

Scott said that Carey, a former F. B. I. agent, has participated in various phases of the Powell investigation and is fully informed on all aspects of the case. "I have put Bernard Carey in charge of all the Powell cases because he is uniquely qualified

Conduct Charge Filed
Roger D. Clements, 25, of 2145 Benton St., was arrested this week on a disorderly conduct charge. The complaint was filed by Pearl Woods.

To successfully direct the investigation and prosecution of what I consider to be among the most important and far-reaching questions of governmental ethics and honesty in public office in recent Illinois history," Scott said.

One of the cases pending against the Powell estate seeks recovery of money allegedly gained by the late secretary of state by granting special favors. Scott declared. A favorable finding in that case would provide the state with the right to sue public officials who illegally profit by the use of the powers of their office, Scott said.

Anniversary Sale

Forty years ago this month the father-son partners, Herman and Louis Cohen came to an auction sale in Granite City to buy a meat slicer for their general store in Maryville. The two partners were so impressed with the opportunities in Granite City they took over the operations of the small store at the corner of 23rd and Illinois Avenue. In 1931 the building was divided into two sections—the grocery store on the corner half and a feed store in the other section. Numerous business men occupied the second section of the building. It was a feed store, ice cream parlor, and shoe repair shop at various times but mainly it was vacant.

In 1948 a devastating fire left only the shell of a building standing. Louis Cohen and two brothers-in-law, Harry Sher and Rueben Katz — all partners in the operation during the previous 15 years — worked to rebuild their store to include both sections as a self-service type supermarket. Two other expansion programs soon followed to improve the premises to its present size. In 1955 a wholesale division was added to enable the store to purchase merchandise at lower prices and be more competitive to chain store operation. Today Mr. Cohen and his sister, Mrs. Katz, are still active in the business assisted by the third generation family members, Merwyn Sher, Wally, Harvey, and Norman Cohen.

MORE ABOUT Dunbar

arts room and the maintenance storage room and all fire extinguishers in the building should be checked and recharged if necessary.

"I recommend that the outside burning of paper, waste, be discontinued," Richardson said, pointing out the burning pit in the playground area is a hazard to children and burning there endangered the school and nearby wood frame homes.

Cites Other Problems
Problems in two classrooms were cited: room 204 in which the threshold through the door and the floor under the radiator repaired; and room 303 in which a glass pane in the lower portion of the door should be replaced with wire protected glass or masonite. A complete housecleaning of the home economics room was suggested.

In the annex, the report suggested loose clothes racks be fastened securely. Richardson suggested that wiring where water has leaked from the roof should be watched carefully to see if the new roof has corrected the problem.

Richardson concluded, "It is my opinion that the school board has made every effort possible with the money available to correct the urgent and necessary items as required by code to make this school safe for the children. I see no immediate dangerous fire hazard at this school due to the urgent items having been complied with."

Fred Riddle, superintendent, read the letter to the board and said that many of the items suggested have been done, and work is proceeding on other suggestions.

Burning Pit Demolished

Outside burning has been discontinued and the pit demolished, Riddle said. He said the home economics room had been thoroughly cleaned and new equipment installed.

Fire extinguishers throughout the building have been checked and two have been ordered for the industrial arts and maintenance storage rooms; Riddle added.

He said that masonite has been placed over the room 303 door glass and that clothes racks in the annex building have been fastened to the floor.

Work is being completed in repairing and refinishing the gymnasium floor and an engineer has been retained for other suggested repairs.

Several parents of Dunbar students were present at the meeting and discussed the possible closing of the building with board members. Mrs. Barbara Madison suggested the building should have been closed years ago.

Mrs. Madison urged that Chester McManaway, board president, make a statement to parents that students who wished to transfer from Dunbar to Madison Junior High School would be allowed to do so as was ordered by Judge William Beatty Sept. 8.

"I want to know, is it your intention to comply with this court order?" Mrs. Madison demanded.

McManaway replied, "It is my intention. You are not going to see me in one hour on contempt of court charges."

Mrs. Madison was one of four parents who filed a mandamus suit asking that the school be repaired, that adequate equipment and educational opportunities

Ladder Stolen

An aluminum ladder was stolen from a maintenance shed at Madison High School, Al Vander Haar, football coach, reported at 11:45 a.m. yesterday.

The purchasing committee also recommended that two walkie talkies be purchased from Motorola Electronics and Communications Corp., St. Louis, low bidder on the units. The total price was $3,988 with $1,195 per mobile unit and $799 per walkie talkie.

Mayor Sasyk commented at the meeting that Chief Frank Duto "has done a fine job with his department." He said that a recent check of department records shows a 51% reduction in crimes in the city from last year.

When asked if that would mean overcrowding at Madison Junior High School, requiring split shifts or other measures, McManaway commented, "We (the board) really have not met to discuss this yet."

Previous bids for 1971 cars were turned down by the council at the last regular meeting and bids on 1972 cars were requested.

Buy Police Cars

The bids were opened by the purchasing committee and recommendations were made for purchase of a two-door Ford from Granite City Dodge, Inc., at $3,500, and a four-door Ford from "Bo" Bucknam Ford of Collinsville at $3,500.

The council approved the recommendations.

The purchasing committee also recommended that two walkie talkies be purchased from Motorola Electronics and Communications Corp., St. Louis, low bidder on the units.

GC Council Clears Way To Hire City Engineer

Granite City's long-standing dispute over the hiring of a city engineer was resolved by the city council Monday night in an amendment to the municipal code establishing a salary of $12,000 annually for such a position.

Council members approved at the same time a motion that advertisements seeking applications from qualified engineers be published by City Clerk Robert Stevens. The action specified that such advertisements be placed in engineering journals.

The city has been without a city engineer since 1969 when a change in the municipal code affected removal of provisions for paying an engineer's salary. Because there was no salary provision, Mayor Donald Appert refused to appoint an engineer.

A growing need of city engineering services has resulted from prouning drainage problems, street and sewer work and other operations. The city has been operating only with a motor fuel tax engineer who handles work only on MFT street improvements.

MRS. FLOYD E. SMITH JR., the former Miss Betty Pastor, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pastor, 2512 Sheridan Ave., whose wedding took place Sept. 25 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Smith-Pastor Nuptials At Sacred Heart Church

Miss Betty Pastor and Floyd E. Smith Jr., exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony on Sept. 25 at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

The Rev. Daniel Flynn officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony. A dinner and reception were held immediately following at the Tri-City American Legion Home, 24th Street and Madison Avenue.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Pastor, 2512 Sheridan Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schultz of Rural Route Two, Granite City.

Music was furnished by Mrs. William Gilsworth, organist, who played several selections, including "A Time For Us" and "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father who gave her in marriage. She chose a pure white satin-faced organza gown designed with a wedding ring collar applied with French imported Chantilly lace. Matching lace, re-embroidered with pearls, formed the Empire bodice and edged the cuffs of the long, full sleeves.

Delicate lace motifs bordered the detachable court train and a satin bow headpiece held in place a short bouffant veil of bridal illusion. She carried a demure Victorian-style bouquet of white Sweetheart roses, pom poms and baby breath festooned with garlands of variegated ivy and white satin streamers.

Miss Carla Linhart was honor attendant and Miss Christie Renneke, a cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaid.

They wore identical full length gowns of azure blue chiffon fashioned with a shirtdress bodice, a high neckline, edged with a narrow ruffle, and long Bishop sleeves. White and blue Venice lace encircled the waists and their headpieces were blue bows attached to short tier veils.

Both attendants carried Victorian bouquets of white pom poms, blue daisy pom poms and baby breath.

The groom chose Jerry Petrill as best man and Frank Durrell as groomsman. Jerry Owens and Sherman Smith were the ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Pastor appeared in a blue knit dress and jacket ensemble with matching accessories. The groom's mother chose a light blue dress and coat with complementary accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations and white roses.

Miss Rhonda Roberts was in charge of the guest book during the reception.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith are graduates of the Granite City High School and are employed in St. Louis. After a wedding trip to the Ozarks, they will live in Granite City.

Eagles Auxiliary 1126 Completes Successful Membership Campaign

The Eagles Auxiliary of Granite City, Area 136, recruited the second highest quota of new members in Illinois during a recent membership drive.

Mrs. Nancy Mullen, president of the local chapter, reported Tuesday evening.

Meeting at the Eagles Home on Madison Avenue, the local women also were advised by Mrs. Marge Hall, membership chairman, that Mrs. Emma Portell and Mrs. Margaret Kindell will be initiated into the unit at its next session.

In recognition of the auxiliary's achievement in the state-wide membership drive, Mrs. Mullen said an article was published in the "Lady Eagles" magazine.

Another honor accorded an auxiliary member was the selection of Miss Sylvia Roy, a long-time member of the Granite City unit, as "District Mother," Mrs. Mullen reported.

The honor was bestowed at a district meeting in Alton.

Plans for the coming month include a Halloween party on Oct. 12 when members will vie for prizes in a costume judging contest and a past presidents party, Oct. 26.

The Eagles Auxiliary Kitchen Band has agreed to perform at the Tri-Cities United Fund's "Fun Fair" event, between 4 and 5 p.m. Sunday at Wilson Park rink pavilion, Mrs. Hall said.

Mrs. Brenda Rickert received the evening's special prize and a white elephant gift, donated by Mrs. Theresa Danco, was won by Mrs. Hall.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Angie Buehler and Mrs. Leona Delatoye from boxes attractively decorated with bowls of fresh flowers.

The meeting concluded with members viewing photographs taken of themselves during childhood, with prizes awarded those who correctly matched an infant's photo to an adult member.

Ladies-In-Action
 Name Mrs. Hotson

Mrs. Ann Hotson was named president of the Ladies-In-Action group of Briarcliff Presbyterian Church, replacing Mrs. Dorothy Dickerson who has resigned, at a meeting held Tuesday evening at the church. The new official previously served as vice-president.

In the business session, reports were presented concerning the recent "Charity Days" project and plans were completed for a bake sale, set Oct. 29 at Tri-City Grocery store in Bellemore Village Shopping Center.

Mrs. Opal Orrell gave the devotional topic, based on the Book of Peter, Chapter 4, Verses 1-11. A discussion followed and the meeting concluded with refreshments served by Mrs. Phyllis Allen and Mrs. Hotson.

Others present were Mesdames Omie Farless, Margaret Glasgow, Roberta Darraugh, Lillian Barton, Jo Raynor, Eliza Travis, Edith Greaney, Marilyn Ragan, Ruby Smith and Dorothy Parker.

Melodie Kee Becomes Mrs. Robert Peacher

Candlelight illuminated the sanctuary of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church for the wedding Sept. 25 of Miss Melodie Renna Kee and Robert Wayne Peacher.

The Rev. Roy Baugh performed the double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock in the evening before an altar banked with early autumn blooms. GC to 'Go Easy' on Open Burning Law Enforcement

There is little likelihood of im-mediate enforcement in Granite City of a statewide ban on open burning by householders, Alder-man Steve Basarich, chairman of the city council's Air Pollu-tion Committee, told council members in meeting Monday night.

At the same time, however, Basarich called for a meeting soon of all officials who will be involved in arranging ex-panded trash pickups necessary to eliminate open burning in the future. Granite City now has a contract with Milam Corp.-East for garbage collection, but ad-ditional arrangements will have to be made to handle pickup of leaves, limbs and trash.

Basarich said he had talked with Henry Bleniece, chairman of the Granite City Air Pollu-tion Control Board, "and I told him I thought we should take it easy on enforcing the burning ban where it involves leaves and limbs. We are not prepared to pick up leaves. I do think the Pollution Committee, the Finance Committee and the mayor should get together to determine what we are going to do about this."

The alderman pointed out that the ban on open burning by commercial establishments is being enforced and that the po-lice department has been in-structed to act in such cases. "But I hope the police won't go around arresting people for burning leaves," Basarich said, aiming his remark at Police Chief Ronald Veizer.

Veizer replied that his officers have been instructed to "hold back" on leaf burning com-plaints pending further orders of the city council.

YOUTHFUL MODELS display dresses they will present in a Home Fashion Style Show to be presented Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. The show will be presented by Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Leland Holt as a benefit for the church building fund. Left to right in photo, Jeanie Holt, Kathy Gusewelle, Elizabeth Wilson and Lucy Holt. Tickets will be $1.

Madison Council Against Utility Rate Increases

The Madison City Council on Tuesday night passed a resolution opposing proposed rate increases by Illinois Power Co. and the East St. Louis and In-terurban Water Co. Council members agreed that they would be willing to cooperate with Granite City, Venice and other cities in hiring an at-torney, on a pro-rata basis, to oppose the proposed electricity and water rate hikes at Inter-state Commerce Commission hearings in Springfield.

City Attorney Casper Nigho-sian was requested to meet with attorneys of other cities to arrange an agreement on the hiring of an attorney.

The council authorized pur-chase of a half-ton pickup truck for the "harmful" department from B. E. Hohl, Inc., for $2,108, plus trade-in of the de-partment's van.

To Sell Equipment

Bids from citizens seeking to purchase a tractor and mower and a 1961 pickup truck from the street department were opened and referred to the Pur-chasing Committee. Four bids were submitted for the tractor and mower and two bids for the truck.

A brochure promoting the Stephen Maers Industrial Park was displayed by Mayor Mike Sasyk and the council author-ized purchase of 10,000 copies at a cost of $525. The four-page brochure was prepared by Southern Illinois University-Southern at no cost to the city, Sasyk explained.

The council agreed to engage the Illinois Metro-East Indus-trial Development Corp. to mail 6,000 copies of the brochure to industrial firms in an effort to sell lots in the park. Sasyk announced that the heads of all city departments will be required to attend a city meeting every Friday from 9 to 10 a.m. to discuss city business. The meetings, starting Oct. 8, will be utilized to share ideas on improving the operation of each department, Sasyk ex-plaind.

A request from the Mal Land-fill asked that the city allow the landfill operators to remove property from city-owned prop-erty on the west side of the Mis-sissippi River levee, at former landfill property. It is to be placed on top of the present landfill, and Mayor Sasyk said permission had been granted by the state. It was referred to the Landfill Committee for consid-eration.

The council noted that the New Salem Baptist Church in West Madison plans dedication of its new church building.

The council approved city bills of $23,564 for the half-month ending Sept. 28. The total included $12,349 in pay for city employees and $3,400 ex-penses for aldermen and city officials at the Illinois Municipal League conference.

A police report for August showed 54 crimes, a decrease of 29 from the 83 crimes in Au-gust 1970. The total exceeded the July figure of 45. Included were 32 larceny and theft reports, eight burglaries, six auto thefts, five as-sault reports, two robberies and one rape.

Nineteen arrests were made, 28 for traffic charges, 17 in juvenile cases and 50 for other charges. Eighteen ac-cidents were reported during the month, including one in-volving a pedestrian.

Church to Mark 4th Year Of Pastor's Service

First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, will observe the fourth anniver-sary of the Rev. Allen Groff pastorate on Sunday. The oc-casion will feature a fellowship hour following the 6:30 p.m. service. The members of the church and their guests will be served refreshments after the service. Slides are shown by Ed Hagler and Fred Rup, who accompanied the pastor on a tour of Russia and the Middle East during the summer.

Chinaware Stolen In House Burglary

A 12-piece setting of china-ware valued at $111 was found missing from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Marler, 3235 Maryville Road, as they were moving to Arnold, Mo., he reported at 1:45 p.m. Tuesday. He said the theft probably oc-curred on the night of Aug. 9 when there were sewer prob-lems at their home and the couple stayed overnight at a motel, leaving a bathroom win-dow open at the home. The set was a gift from their son who brought it here from Japan.

Second County Courthouse Site Proposed by Architect

The Madison County Public Building Commission has re-ceived an alternate site for the proposed county courthouse and jail complex in the Edwards-ville business district from planning architect Alva Breit-weiser.

In a meeting Monday, Breit-weiser suggested the use of about 100,000 square feet of land bounded by Main, Second, Purcell and East College streets. It is separated by Pur-cell Street from the old county courthouse, which may be re-modeled for administrative of-fices.

An earlier proposal by the architect recommended a loca-tion diagonally across Main St. from the courthouse, extending from Hillsboro Avenue to the municipal parking lot on Main Street and about halfway down the block on Hillsboro. Included in that area is the old county jail.

The new proposal would cost no more to acquire than the first site and would offer more advantages, Breitweiser told the commission.

It would provide adequate parking space and eliminate the need for underground parking facilities, the architect said, and an above-ground pas-sage way could connect the new com-plex with the old courthouse building.

Based on Space Need

His study was based on space need projections for the next 20 years.

An exception to the downtown location was raised by Roy Halbe, a member of the County Board of Supervisors and chair-man of its new building's com-mittee, who said the commis-sion would have difficulty in ac-quiring some of the property.

But PBC members noted that condemnation proceedings could be instituted.

The commission at the meet-ing appointed Alton architect Halbe as a temporary commission chairman following the resignation of attorney John Gitchoff who was appointed as a circuit judge earlier this month.

A replacement for Gitchoff is named by Harold Landolt, county board chairman.

William Steiner New Madison Policeman

William E. Steiner, 26, of 904 Greenwood Ave., was ap-pointed to the Madison Police Department Friday, as a probationary policeman.

Steiner's appointment was confirmed by the Madison City Council during a meeting Tuesday night. His employment was part of a reorganization plan for the police department which also included promotion of Sgt. William Fanning to full-time juvenile officer and the promotion of Donald Bridick from probationary policeman to patrolman.

The new policeman holds a General Education diploma from Maryland University in Baltimore, Md. He is a Vietnam veteran having served in the U.S. Army eight years, finishing as a sergeant (E-5).

He received the Vietnam Campaign Medal, the Vietnam Support Medal, two overseas bars, a National Defense Ribbon and several other honors.

He is a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Steiner is the father of three children, Carolyn Sue, Robert G. and Sandra Ann Steiner.

Rolls Breaks Loose, Wheel Through Window

The left front wheel and tire of the westbound auto of Barbara Koore, 311 Terry St., broke away from her auto in the 400 block of Broadway in Venice, at 4:20 p.m. Tuesday, causing the front of the car to drop and damaging the left front of the auto.

The wheel and tire rolled across Broadway and broke through a front plate glass win-dow at Tri-City Grocery, 420 Broadway.

Registration to Close For 'Y' Dance Classes

Registration will close Satur-day for youth ballet classes for the fall term at the YMCA. Mrs. Joyce Mitchell, instruc-tor, said several openings were available for the Saturday ses-sions for 5-year-olds at 9:30 a.m., 6-year-olds at 10:30 a.m., 8-year-olds at 12:30 p.m. and 14-year-olds at 1:30 p.m. Each class will start on an hour, with the first half devoted to ballet and the second to tap. The program will end Nov. 27. Full information may be ob-tained by phoning the "Y" youth department.

Apartment Burglary

A portable record player and a five-band radio were taken during a day-light burglary of the apartment of Richard Tarr, 1728 Cleveland Blvd., it was reported at 8 p.m. Tuesday. There was no sign of forced entry.

Hire Handicapped Contest

Terry Tolan, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Tolan, 420 Benning Ave., won first place in the annual downtown "Hire the Handicapped" poster con-test. It was announced yester-day in Chicago to contest lead-ers here.

The youth will receive a $100 bond, a three-day expenses-paid tour to Chicago for himself and a parent to attend an annual banquet, and a conducted tour of Chicago on Oct. 7, 8 and 9, according to Alva Gitchoff, senior vice-commander of Disabled American Veterans Chapter 33, and Malcolm Thompson, man-ager of the local Illinois State

Employment Service office. The state DAV and ISES sponsored the contest in three sections, including one for Chi-cago and one for suburban Chi-cago.

Young Tolan, now a sopho-more at Granite City High School, was a student at Coolidge Junior High School when he painted the poster.

It received a second place award in the class II junior high division of the local con-test, but eight posters there, including first, second and third place winners and an honorable mention winner from each division, were forwarded to the state contest in Chicago for further judging.

Tolan's poster is to be on public display in Chicago and will be on public display when it eventually is returned, Thompson said.

Young Tolan entered an art class last year at Coolidge by accident, his mother said.

As a ninth grader, he had registered for an electrical course, but after six weeks in that class, it was determined that it was the same course that he had taken while a seventh grader at Central Junior High School.

To obtain the needed credit, he was given the choice of taking a course in art or music. Mrs. Tolan said, and he chose art at a time when the other students were already at work on their posters.

YOUTH FOCUS

Freedman Selected for New U. of I. Program

Mark Freedman, 2343 Cleveland Blvd., is among 176 freshmen at the University of Illinois who are creating their own academic community within a large university.

The first two floors of Allen Hall serves as headquarters for the program, called Unit I, providing space for teaching and for faculty offices in addition to living quarters for the students. Men live in one wing and women in another.

The program seeks to encourage more active participation by students in their own education.

Alan Purves, professor of English and director of Unit I, said students who seemed likely to work well on their own initiative were selected because the program emphasizes individual study and voluntary participation in projects.

Although exceptional academic ability was not an important requirement, 59 James Scholars are among the 85 men and 91 women accepted for Unit I's first year.

Purves said a diverse group was created so that students from different backgrounds could learn from each other. They are enrolled in six colleges in the U. of I. and have a wide variety of interests ranging from early childhood education to managing funeral homes.

Enrollment Up 1.6% At Eastern Illinois

Eastern Illinois University's fall quarter enrollment was officially announced today as 8,790, a 1.6% increase over last year's figure of 8,652.

Enrollment in the graduate school shows a headcount of 976, a decrease of 79 from last year. However, the number of full-time graduate students is up slightly. A decrease in the number of incoming freshmen was reported, with slight increases listed in the other categories. Of the total, 4,120 are men and 4,670 are women.

Enrollment for the quarter is about 300 under projections made by University officials prior to a cut in the state's higher education budget for the current fiscal year.

First SIU Medical Students Will Be Chosen Next Spring

Twenty-four students, most of them from Southern and Central Illinois, will be selected next spring to be the landmark class for the Southern Illinois University School of Medicine.

So said Dean Richard H. Moy as he was host to the SIU board of trustees on a visit to the school's existing facilities in Springfield. The trustees inspected the interim office and interim Medical Library Building, and viewed the seven-acre site on which construction is expected to start this fall on Phase I of the School of Medicine campus.

Dean Moy told trustees the 24 selected students will start their medical training at the Carbondale campus, "where sophisticated equipment and qualified Ph.D. faculty are available to teach the basic courses."

"These students will start their year-around schooling with the 1972 summer term," he said, transferring to the Springfield campus for their second and third years.

Prototype for Nation

"I expect the medical school you gentlemen as SIU trustees are starting will be the prototype of the next 10 to 15 medical schools in the country," Moy said. "The accreditation committee is well aware of this, and its stamp of approval on our efforts will be a landmark in medical education."

The SIU School will come up for ordinary accreditation in January 1972.

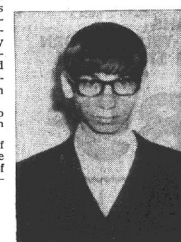

"By cooperative utilization of the expertise in the Carbondale campus and the facilities of Springfield's two great hospitals with their more than $70 million in physical assets, we have gained five years in time and saved the state of Illinois upwards of $100 million," Moy said.

SIU students working alongside staff members at Springfield Memorial and St. John's hospitals will learn their medicine in the "real world of real hospitals."

"By selecting our students from well-qualified, high ranking applicants, most of them from central and southern Illinois, we hope our graduates will practice medicine in the smaller communities of their origin rather than flocking to the large cities," Moy said. "We expect to have members of minority groups and both sexes in our classes."

Bids will be opened Oct. 5 for the first phase of the medical building, for which Gov. Richard Ogilvie has released $2,760,000 in Illinois Building Authority funds.

POPULAR LOCAL GROUP, Darrell Lane and the Lane Gang, has been invited to participate in the World Talent Search in Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 2 and 3. The giant program will include two days and nights of rock, pop and country & western music, with all proceeds aiding American Indians. While in Nashville, the group will record two new songs written by Lane. Shown at a recent performance at Menard Penitentiary are, from left, Mel Morgan, Lane, and his sister, Marie Lane.

Local Group to Perform at Nashville Show

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The local country and western group, Darrell Lane and the Lane Gang, will participate in the World Talent Search Oct. 2 and 3 in Vanderbilt Fieldhouse, Nashville, Tenn.

Approximately 25 of the country's top rock, pop and country and western groups have been invited to participate in the event which will feature two days and nights of music for the Southeastern Indian Antiquities Survey, Inc., a non-profit organization to aid the American Indian.

Lane received the invitation last week for the expense-paid trip to Nashville and two performances to be followed by a recording session in a major Nashville studio. During the session, the group will record two songs Lane has written, "Our Daddy's Gone," and "Living a Lie."

The recording session is a guaranteed prize for participating the search but the singers also may qualify for a $500 second or a $1,000 first prize.

Record Released

Lane and his backup singers and instrumentalists presently have one record on the market, "Waiting For You" on Mario Records. They recorded it 18 months ago in Union City, Mo. It was released 15 months ago. The record received limited play on many Southern radio stations but generally was not widely distributed. The new record will be on a major label and Lane said he hopes that will help its popularity.

The two songs to be recorded will be tested on the Nashville audience during the group's two performances, one each day, at the World Talent Search. The judges and advisors for the event include many of the top names in entertaining, including Johnny Cash, Ray Stevens, Chet Atkins, Bobby Goldsboro, Boots Randolph, Porter Wagoner and Sonny James. Other sponsors are top record companies, music companies, talent agencies and trade magazines.

"I understand it is billed as the year's biggest event in Nashville and a huge crowd is expected," Lane said. He said he and the five members of the Lane Gang are enthusiastic about the opportunity and feel that the appearance and the new record may be the big steps in achieving their dream, success and popularity.

Members of the Lane Gang are Marie Lane, singer and the leader's sister; Mel Morgan, lead guitarist; Bill Bearley, steel guitar; Tom Bearley, bass; and Chuck Padry, drums. Bob Menard of Mitchell travels with the group as an agent.

All are residents of the Quad-City area with the leader, his sister and the Bearley brothers from Granite City, and Purdy and Morgan from Ponton Beach.

3 Year Veterans

During the three years they have been together, they have performed at Officers' Clubs and Non-Commissioned Officers' Clubs at military bases throughout the country. They also have performed at Menard Penitentiary in Chester, Ill., twice and have saved the letters and notes of appreciation from inmates. "Reading them kind of boosts our ego and makes us sing better," Lane commented.

As they leave here for Nashville they will be taking those letters, a few four-leaf clovers and several rabbits' feet with them; anything that may help their performances and give them that one lucky break that will spell success.

Course Opens on Jr. College Operations

A course on the operation of junior colleges is being offered during the fall quarter at the Lewis and Clark Community College by Southern Illinois University's Southwestern Extension Division.

First meeting of the class was Wednesday evening with Dr. Henry T. Boss as instructor. Four quarter hours of credit will be given.

Boss, a member of Education Division faculty, is a specialist in junior college education.

State Conservation Areas Open for Picnics, Camping

By RAY SORATI
Capey News Service

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Conservation Department is trying to get the maximum use out of the various public recreation areas which are scattered throughout the state.

Apparently some confusion exists in the mind of the public because many of these recreation areas are designated as conservation areas. Conservation Department officials feel that in the minds of many persons, conservation areas mean that "this section is reserved for hunting or fishing." Because of this, many times these areas are overlooked as picnic and camping spots.

The Conservation Department operates 12 of the conservation areas. These are scattered throughout the state.

In addition, Kankakee River and Chain O'Lakes State Parks also have such areas. Three lake areas, Carlyle Lake, Lake Shelbyville, and Rend Lake, have or will have similar types of areas.

Practically all of the areas have camping facilities as well as picnicking, fishing, hunting, boating and hiking.

But Conservation Department officials say they have noted an upswing in the use of the conservation or recreation areas. This upswing in the usage comes mainly from campers.

Because of the increased use of camping facilities at state parks, many campers are turning to the conservation areas that do provide such camping facilities.

Up to now, these facilities have not been jammed with campers. If a person prefers a quieter camping site, these areas might just be the place, according to Conservation Department officials.

Meanwhile, the department is continuing its close watch on the number of persons attending the conservation areas.

This will be the basis as to whether or not the areas will have to be expanded or, in some cases, if the areas will have to be cut back. However, it is doubtful that there will be a cutback because of the marked increase in use of all Conservation Department facilities.

GC Attorney Pleads Innocent to Charges

Terry J. Francis, 2629 State St., a Granite City attorney with law offices at 2740 Madison Ave., was released on a $5,000 recognizance bond Monday after pleading innocent to a St. Clair County grand jury indictment charging criminal damage to property exceeding $150.

Francis was arraigned before Circuit Judge Harold O. Farmer at the St. Clair County Jail in Belleville Monday afternoon.

A grand jury in Belleville returned the indictment against Francis Sept. 15. He is charged with causing damage totaling several hundred dollars July 12 in an apartment at 1412 Sangamon Court in Lincolnshire Subdivision in St. Clair County.

Francis, who has been active in the Democratic Party, was appointed by Gov. Otto Kerner in 1965 as a commissioner of the Bi-State Development Agency.

Howlett Says End Of Personal Tax Offers No Relief

Abolition of the personal property tax in Illinois, when it comes, will result in a change in form of taxation, not tax relief, Michael J. Howlett, state auditor of public accounts, said today. He addressed the Illinois County Clerks and Records annual convention in Springfield.

"The people of Illinois want to get rid of the personal property tax," said Howlett. "They proved it in 1970 when they voted almost eight to one to amend the old 1870 Constitution to abolish the personal property tax on individuals."

"The Illinois Supreme Court must have upset millions of taxpayers, and relieved a few local governments, when it set aside the amendment and said it would be unconstitutional to treat individuals differently from corporations."

"A proposal to abolish a tax, any tax, always has voter appeal. Nobody running for office every stands up for taxes. A call for tax reduction is much more likely to attract votes."

"But it would be deceiving the people to let them think it will cost any less to run the government if we abolish a few unpopular taxes."

Real Estate Taxes Up
"We were given a new state income tax with promises local real estate taxes would be reduced. But real estate taxes went up substantially last year, and in most of the state the forecast is for another increase for this year."

"Property taxes — both real estate and personal — are used entirely to support our schools and local governments. None of the property tax revenue leaves the county or school district or municipality in which it is levied."

"Nearly four-fifths of the personal property tax is paid by corporations. Other business pays a little more than a tenth. Individuals pay a little less than a tenth."

"A computation by the Taxpayers Federation totaled the 1970 personal property tax collection in Illinois at $800 million. If the tax is finally killed for sure, the same taxpayers will have to pay for the $800 million worth of services, or cut back the services."

Car, Furniture Exemption
"The new law exempting one car and home furnishings for each household effectively abolished much of the personal property tax on individuals."

"The legislature has suggested that a large exclusion—$10,000 to $20,000 of valuation—from taxation would wipe out the personal property tax for nearly all individuals, farmers and small businessmen, if applied constitutionally to both individuals and corporations."

"The 1970 Constitution orders the legislature to abolish all personal property taxes by Jan. 1, 1979, and replace it with a new statewide tax or taxes on the same classes that were paying it before any abolition after Jan. 2, 1971."

"One way or another, we will eventually finish off the outmoded, inequitable, thoroughly detested personal property tax. But let's not call it tax relief. It won't be."

Improvement Census Of Homes, Purchasing

Questions on consumer buying and home improvement expectations will be asked by a representative of the Bureau of Census in this area during the first week in October.

The survey is made four times yearly as part of a nationwide effort to guide government agencies in developing programs based on consumer spending patterns.

A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car, or major household appliances during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items. Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs made during the last three months and any planned for the future.

The July 1971 survey indicated no significant change from earlier plans this year to buy houses, but intentions to buy cars and major household appliances had declined somewhat. Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential by the law and will be published only in the form of statistical totals. The Census Bureau representative in this area is Mrs. Mary Lou Gallagher of Edwardsville.

Placement of College Grads Still Unimproved

Job prospects for college graduates haven't brightened as the fall placement interviewing season opens, according to Gerald C. Largent, Placement Service director at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

"At a meeting of placement directors early this month," Largent said, "I talked with as many of them as possible and none could see any improvement in the picture, although they expressed hope for recouping some of the losses by winter or spring."

At SIU, 54 teens from business and industry plus two from graduate schools have signed up for interview dates during October with SIU prospective graduates, and 41 are registered for November.

The comparable figures last year were 58 in October and 66 in November, and in 1969 the numbers were 83 in October and 109 in November.

Largent said that some 1971 graduates are still landing jobs. "Most of the teaching positions are filled, although a few last-minute vacancies occur due to emergencies such as accidents, illness, pregnancies. We are still getting reports, however, from graduates who have secured jobs with business, industry, social agencies and government."

Sleep Analyzer Aids Fight on Drug Abuse

By FRANK MACOMBER, Copley News Service

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has developed a sleep analyzer which tells you and your doctor whether you sleep light, loose, deeply or disturbed.

This may sound like some kind of a spoof, but responsible medical men claim it could become a valuable tool in hospitals and clinics, especially in the fight against drug addiction.

The NASA-developed sleep analyzer already is being offered to hospitals and medical centers, two years before it is to be used to pry into the sleeping habits of three astronauts aboard the U. S. Skylab earth-orbiting space station.

Thus, for the first time, NASA technology is being applied in public and private institutions before it is to be used in the space program.

Developed by Dr. James D. Frost of Baylor University's College of Medicine, Texas, the analyzer employs electroencephalogram (EEG) (brain wave) and electrooculogram (EOG) signals.

By combining and evaluating the signals, the device provides a record of the depth and hence the quality of sleep, Dr. Frost explains.

Rapid eye movements indicated by the EOG signals, coupled with the EEG measurements of brain activity, show that the patient is dreaming, is experiencing disturbed sleep, has just dozed off or will awaken soon.

Medical researchers who try to evaluate the sleep patterns of drug addicts believe sleep analysis may be useful in identifying harmful side effects from drugs being developed to combat "hard" narcotic addiction.

Three prototype models of the compact portable device have been built for research by SCI Electronics, Inc., a subsidiary of SCI Systems, Inc., Houston.

Its first use as a space experiment will be aboard NASA's Skylab space station scheduled for a 28-day mission in mid-1973. The sleep analyzer also will be used, if it operates successfully, on two subsequent 56-day Skylab missions.

While the device still is a research tool, medical scientists say it might be helpful in treating insomniacs and other patients experiencing "sleep neuroses."

Meanwhile, doctors associated with the Federal Aviation Agency are considering use of the analyzer to study the sleep patterns of air traffic controllers and pilots after periods of unusually stress-laden duty.

One of the three prototypes is being used by the University of South Carolina Medical School for use in sleep research with patients suffering from burns.

The Galveston medical branch of the University of Texas uses another to study sleep characteristics of victims of brain and head injuries.

The Veterans Administration Hospital, Oklahoma City, has the third analyzer in use on a 17,000-foot mountain peak on the Alaskan-Canadian border to study the sleep of people living and working at that altitude.

These models cost $5,200 each, compared with the price tag of nearly $100,000 on an earlier, more cumbersome analyzer in quantity for a wide range of clinical applications could lower unit costs considerably.

GC Council Overrides Zone Commission, Grants Permit for Mobile Home Court

The Granite City Council reversed the City Planning and Zoning Commission Monday night in a 9 to 3 roll call vote allowing issuance of a use permit to install an on-unit mobile home court in West Granite City.

The court would be located on West 22nd Street between Cayuga Street and Harding Avenue and would be built by the Reinhardt Agency of Granite City. Request for the special use permit was rejected by the City Planning and Zoning Commission in a report to the city council earlier this month.

Approval of a motion by Alderman Steve Basarich of the Fifth Ward, in which the home court site is located, followed a lengthy and heated exchange of words between Basarich and one of his constituents, Gary Barnstable, 2635 West 22nd St. Barnstable, who was in the audience during Basarich's discussion of the project, asked permission for the floor to restate a charge by Basarich that details of the project had been "misrepresented" during circulation of petitions opposing the special permit.

Claims Value Loss Barnstable told the council he lives across the street from the home court site and said the value of his home would be devalued by the mobile court.

"They want to put 82 trailers on that 9-acre tract, with only one entrance," he said. He turned to Basarich and explained.

"I carried those petitions and I didn't misrepresent anything. The people in that neighborhood know full well what will go in there. I found only two people in favor of it, three others were indifferent, but the rest didn't want it."

Basarich broke in. "Who is your yardman?" he asked Barnstable.

"Nonn" also of the Fifth Ward represents us," Barnstable replied.

"This stinks of politics," Basarich retorted. "Why didn't you come to see me?"

"Because," said Barnstable, "Nonn said he represents our end of town."

At this point Basarich began shouting that many of the persons who signed the petitions live in mobile homes, and that he had found 43 mobile homes in the neighborhood adjacent to the home court site.

Nonn interrupted Basarich.

"I can take this petition and go around and have every name scratched off it," he said. "Do you think I could?" he asked.

"You better believe it," Barnstable replied.

40-Foot Lots N. H. Reinhardt, operator of the developing agency, in his request for the use permit, said the average lot size would be 40 feet.

Nonn and Basarich have spearheaded support for the project since the request first was received for a use permit.

Nonn said "we have hard-working people in the area and mobile homes are a suitable alternative to low-income housing."

Voting against issuance of the permit were Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Gerald Parmlay and Thomas Boker. Voting in favor were Nonn, Basarich, Clyde Boyd, Claude Green, Frank Greenwald, Paul Schuler, Roy Poulos, William Dallas and Everett Morien. Aldermen Emerald Dawes and R. E. Robertson were absent.

McKendree is Site of Gifted Service Center

McKendree College at Lebanon is the home of the new McKendree Area Service Center for the development of education programs for gifted children. The state-supported center serves 11 Southwestern Illinois counties, including Madison County.

The program is funded through the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction. The program was written by Raymond Gritter, former supervisor of Region V for the Gifted Program Development Section, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Robert Stanish, formerly director of the Edwardsville Service and Demonstration Center to Gifted. Gritter is director of the McKendree center.

The center helps school districts develop programs for gifted and talented children. The gifted or talented child too often is overlooked while the teacher wrestles with the problems of the average and slow children, and as a consequence the gifted may become bored or frustrated, and other problems may develop, Gritter said.

Many Bicyclists Die in State Traffic Crashes

By JOAN MURRO
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD — In the interests of health and ecology, an increasing number of men, women and children in Illinois are jumping aboard bicycles and pedaling off down the state's highways and byways. Unfortunately for the interests of safety, more and more of them are trying to occupy the same spaces simultaneously with motor vehicles, with results usually unfortunate for the bicyclists.

A summary of motor vehicle traffic accidents, compiled by the Public Works and Buildings Bureau of Traffic, shows that the numbers of accidents involving motor vehicles and bicycles is rising although the number of deaths resulting, through July of this year, has declined.

During May this year, 321 accidents were reported to the Bureau, involving motor vehicles and what the Bureau terms "pedalcyclists."

Of the 323 persons involved, 70 sustained serious injuries, 169 received minor injuries and 84 others complained of pain without sign of viable injury. Three were killed.

During May 1970, there were 329 accidents with six deaths and 339 persons injured.

Through July of this year, nine persons have been killed in 630 accidents involving motor vehicles and bicycles, with 656 persons injured.

During the first seven months of 1970, there were 575 accidents, 13 deaths and 590 injuries.

ies, which the Traffic Bureau tabulates as a decrease of 31% in the death rate through July of this year.

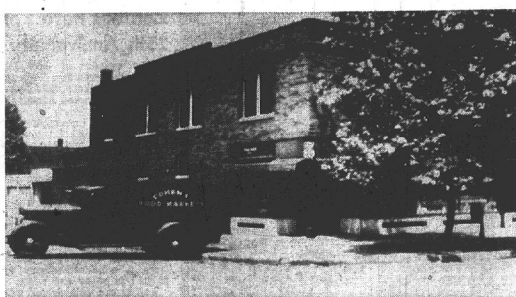

To further safe riding practices among the swelling numbers of bicycle riders in the state, Secretary of State John W. Lewis and State Instruction Supt. Michael Bakalis have been sponsoring bicycle safety programs which include distribution of "Bicycle Rules of the Road," booklets prepared for motor vehicle operators.

In the year since they were first made available, more than a million and a half of the booklets have been distributed, not only in Illinois but in a number of other states and Canada as well.

The bulk of the booklets have been distributed through Illinois schools, and adult individuals also have requested them, as well as school and civic groups, the Army, Navy and Air Force and various recreation organizations.

The booklet is the only such comprehensive manual designed specifically for bicyclists in any state. It not only gives safety and maintenance tips, but lists required and optional equipment for legal bicycle operation, and outlines traffic rules which apply to bicycles as well as other users of the state roads.

COHEN'S FOOD STORE at W. 23rd Street and Illinois Avenue which today opened a month-long observance of its 40th year here. The vehicle in front is a Diamond T delivery van in use during the 1930s.

Cohen's Food Store Observing 40th Year

Cohen's Food Store at W. 23rd Street and Illinois Avenue will celebrate its 40th anniversary of operation in Granite City throughout the month of October and beginning today.

The store was started in October 1931 after Louis Cohen and his father attended an auction sale here to purchase a meat slicer for their general store in Maryville.

The two were impressed with the opportunities in Granite City and decided to buy the entire building.

After the son had observed a self-service grocery store in operation in the south, he suggested to his father that they switch to a self-service operation.

The father, Herman Cohen, at first opposed the idea but decided to give it a try and several shelves were placed in the store, according to relatives.

The building was divided into two sections in 1931, the grocery store on the corner half and a feed store in the other.

Ice Cream Parlor
Many businessmen occupied the second section of the building. In addition to the feed store, it has housed an ice cream parlor and a shoe repair shop at various times, but mainly it remained vacant.

A devastating fire left only the shell of a building in 1948, and Louis Cohen and two brothers-in-law, Harry Sher and Louis Katz, all partners in the operation during the previous 15 years, worked to rebuild their store to include both sections as a self-service type supermarket.

Two other expansion programs soon followed to enlarge the premises to the present size. A wholesale division was added in 1953 to enable the store to purchase merchandise at lower prices and be more competitive with chain stores.

Today Louis Cohen and his sister, Mrs. Sara Katz, are still active in the business, assisted by the third generation of the family, Mervyn Sizer and Wally, Harvey and Norman Cohen.

Postmistress, Fire Chief
The family originated in O'Fallon and moved to Maryville in 1919 to operate the general store which contained the post office. Mrs. Katz served as postmistress of Maryville about 45 years ago, and Louis Katz was the fire chief.

After moving here the family became active in many civic and charitable programs in an attempt to help the youths and others of the community.

Though members of the family now reside in St. Louis County, they continue to patronize and serve the local community.

With low prices and courteous service a byword, the store attracts customers not only from the Quad-Cities but in surrounding communities.

One of the third generation remarked: "We hope to be here to observe our 100th anniversary and to continue to be part of the overall community."

Library Grant Program Is Announced by State

Secretary of State and State Librarian John W. Lewis today announced the inauguration of a new program of incentive grants to be known as Project Plus to encourage and stimulate the development of tax-supported library services.

The philosophy of the grant program is based on the premise that the local community has the direct responsibility to promote local library services, Lewis said. The incentive grant is an instrument to help demonstrate and implement library services. The grants are federally funded under the Library Services and Construction Act.

The first two grants in this new program are being awarded to the Alpha Park Library, Bartonville, which will receive a grant in the amount of $101,580 for the period of September 1971 to September 1972 and Hayner Public Library, Alton, which will receive a grant in the amount of $94,640 for the period of July 1, 1971 to June 30, 1972. This grant would establish the Greater Alton Library District.

The purpose of Project Plus, Secretary Lewis explained, is to promote larger units of service, to encourage the organization of public library districts in the state to be carried on by library systems according to the following principles:

That the state will provide funds equal to income from 12 cents tax against the assessed valuation of any community involved that has no library service at present (not to exceed $5 per capita).

System will provide 50 cents per capita by the purchase of library materials equal to that amount of money and placing them on long term loan in the newly formed library district.

In order for these funds to be granted, the communities involved must agree to a referendum to form a district library not later than the ninth month of the first year of the project. Assuming a successful referendum, both the system and state grants would be available for the second year in an amount not to exceed the original grant to provide for continuation of the service until taxes are collected.

The minimum assessed valuation for an area considered under this project will be $45,000, and minimum population will be 10,000 people, or if based on a population density of 70 or less, a valuation of $2,500 and a population of 5,000.

An effort will be made to fund four or five projects the first year in different parts of the state.

Library districts formed as a result of Project Plus must agree to tax initially at either a minimum of 12 cents or at a rate which would yield a minimum of $5 per capita.

Police Workshop Set In GC on Oct. 13-15

The St. Clair-Madison County Chiefs of Police Association planned a community relations workshop to be held Oct. 13, 14 and 15 in Granite City during a meeting held at Fischer's Restaurant, Belleville.

One hundred officers will be trained at the sessions to be funded by a grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission which is sponsored in this area by the association.

The association adopted resolutions endorsing a new pension law concerning retired policemen which Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has signed, and the law enforcement standards taken by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

It was proposed that Ronald J. Veizer of Granite City, association president, appoint a committee to study the feasibility of forming a major case squad for the two-county area to meet with the executive board of the Metro-East Major Case Squad to coordinate their efforts.

Twenty-two municipalities and the sheriff's departments of both counties were represented, at the meeting. Sheriff Dave O'Neill of St. Clair County was host.

A stereo, 30 tapes and two speakers valued at $254 were stolen from the auto of Darwin Roach, 123 Briarcliff, while it was parked in his driveway, during the weekend.

NASA Has Big Plans for Next Apollo Flights

By FRANK MACOMBER
Military-Aerospace Writer
Copley News Service

What, the American taxpayer might ask, can two more manned Apollo moon missions achieve that hasn't already been accomplished by the Apollo 15 astronauts and their three predecessor crews on earlier lunar explorations?

Indeed, what can additional Apollo flights do for an encore? Federal space agency officials believe there are plenty of chores left for Apollo 16 and 17 astronauts next year if all the pieces of the lunar jigsaw puzzle are to be put together.

Space scientists already are claiming they have learned more about the moon's origin and structure from the graphic descriptions of Apollo 15 Astronauts David Scott and James Irwin than they gleaned from the combined three previous moon landings.

Nevertheless, the hardware for Apollo 16 and 17 — Saturn boosters, spacecraft and lunar rovers — are on the shelf, already bought and paid for. So it is go for Apollo 16 next March and for Apollo 17 next fall.

Landing Sites
Space officials have selected the Descartes region of the moon, most southerly site yet chosen, for the Apollo 16 exploration. Named for a crater to the south, Descartes is nearly 300 miles below the lunar equator and 750 miles southeast of Apollo 15's Hadley-Apennine touchdown spot. It lies in the central lunar highlands that are among the highest regions of the face the moon turns down toward earth.

Space scientists claim Descartes is a key site in lunar exploration for it is expected to provide samples of highland soil and dust believed to be of volcanic origin.

Lunar scientists still argue over whether moon craters are the results of volcanoes, meteor impacts or a combination of each. They believe materials from Descartes might provide a clue to the answer.

Plan Observatory
The Apollo 16 astronauts also will set up history's first astronomical observatory on the moon. Its mission will be to photograph objects and gas clouds in deep space which may provide new information about the structure and evolution of our Milky Way galaxy of 100 billion stars.

The miniature observatory will be part of a so-called "science station" to be erected by the astronauts. About four feet high and weighing 30 pounds, it will make ultraviolet photographs of energy-emitting objects or gas clouds as far away as space beyond our galaxy and as close to home as the earth.

Known to scientists as an ultraviolet camera - spectrograph, the observatory will operate only while the astronauts are on the moon. They will remove its film and return it to earth for study.

Apollo 16 spacemen also will install a seismometer designed to spot moonquakes and determine whether the lunar crust, like the earth's, is moving about under the influence of underlying forces.

Crew Chosen
Unlike the all-Air Force Apollo 15 crew, two Apollo 16 astronauts are naval officers and the third is — you guessed it — another Air Force officer.

Navy Capt. John W. Young, 40, a veteran of three earlier space flights, will be Apollo 16 mission commander. His command ship pilot will be Navy Lt. Cmdr. Thomas K. Mattingly II, 34, who was to have been the command module pilot on the abortive Apollo 13 mission but was replaced a few days before launch when he was exposed to German measles.

Lunar lander pilot will be Air Force Lt. Col. Charles M. Duke Jr., 35.

He will explore the moon with Young while Mattingly circles in lunar orbit. Mattingly and Duke are space rookies, but Young flew on the Gemini 3 and two-man earth orbital missions and on Apollo 10, the first manned flight around the moon.

Seek Bids on Bus for School Program

Bids are being sought for a 16-passenger bus to be used by the Work Experience and Career Exploration Program (WECEP) this year in Madison School District 12.

The Madison School Board has authorized Wade James, administrative assistant, to collect bids and investigate the possibility of leasing a small bus to be used in transporting 14 and 15-year-old students from school to part-time jobs under the federally subsidized work-study program to keep potential dropouts in school.

At the next board meeting Oct. 21, the board will consider James' recommendations on whether to purchase or lease the bus, either with WECEP funds or with district funds which would be reimbursed through the WECEP program. James has informed a board members that a request for Title I funds has been approved and that a trainable high school student class, for students from the Granite City, Madison and Venice districts, has begun in the basement of St. Mark's Catholic Church in Venice.

Special Levy Approved
A proposal for a special education building fund was approved Aug. 29 and a levy of 4 cents per $100 assessed valuation was authorized by the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction in Springfield, Wade said.

Fred Riddle, superintendent, has reported that numerous items have been taken from Blair School in at least two burglaries during the summer and attempts to replace the items are being made. Taken were five phonographs, two overhead projectors, two duplicating machines, a tape recorder, an adding machine and a typewriter, Riddle said. He added that two outside speakers, worth $60, were taken from the high school this week.

Riddle said also that the Madison Federation of Teachers has presented him with a proposed salary scale, starting at $8,300 for a new teacher with a bachelor of science degree, and that they are ready to resume negotiations at the school board's convenience.

Permission has been granted to the district's secretaries to which the Illinois Association of Educational Secretaries fall meeting at Rockford, Ill., Oct. 15 and 16, and the district's cooks have been given permission to attend the Madison County School Food Service Association fall meeting in Granite City at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Convention Scheduled
Board members have been invited to attend the Illinois School Board Convention Nov. 19 through 22 in Chicago. Riddle said that he will accept reservations.

An invitation for all school board members to attend athletic events at Granite City High School this school year was received by the Madison Board and Chester McManis.

way, president, suggested similar invitations be sent to all schools on the Madison High School athletic calendar inviting school board members to attend all of Madison's events.

The board has considered requests for the use of facilities from the Madison Police Department and the high school band director. A police request to use the high school gymnasium during the winter for physical work-outs has been deferred pending proof that the officers are insured in case of injuries. Approval has been granted for use of the high school Feb. 19, 1972, to host the Madison County Junior High School and Elementary School Band Festival.

Pleasure Boaters Ask About Delays In Dam Lockages

Col. Guy E. Jester, district engineer, U. S. Army Engineer District, St. Louis, reports that in recent days there have been many inquiries from pleasure boaters using Lock 24 at Clarksville, Mo., and Lock 23 at Winfield, Mo., concerning delays in lockages due to heavy traffic.

Many have requested to know why the second lock at each location is not utilized. In response to these inquiries, Colonel Jester said that Dam 34 and Dam 25 are equipped with a single 600 foot long by 110 foot wide lock. During the planning for each structure, increased traffic was anticipated, thus the locks were designed so that at some future date an additional 360 by 110 foot lock could be added.

Since the original planning and design over 30 years ago, radical changes in tow sizes and configurations have made 360 foot locks obsolete. Therefore, the additional locks were never constructed.

The upper gates in the space where the second lock would have been constructed are often mistaken by boaters for a second lock. However, the second lock is only an extension to the dam to maintain the upper pool level.

The lockage of pleasure boats is expedited by locking them through commercial craft (other than barges carrying petroleum products or highly hazardous materials in order to utilize the capacity of the lock to its maximum.

Chain Store 'Freeze' Obligations Outlined

Chain stores must maintain records of prices prevailing during the base period preceding the wage-price freeze, according to Kenneth W. Gardiner, Region Five director of the President's Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Chains must maintain records for each store if each store used separate pricing policies before the freeze began. They must be available for public inspection.

If keeping them at chain headquarters is deemed reasonable public inspection, then the freeze is being violated, he said. The lists must be available, but need not be posted.

There is no requirement that pricing records be kept as a list; however, the form in which they are kept must be conducive to public inspection. Any member of the public may inspect the price lists, even if he isn't in the process of purchasing the articles concerned.

For more information or to report violations, citizens are to contact their nearest Internal Revenue Service Office or their County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office, Gardiner said.

Telephone numbers of IRS offices furnishing assistance include: Alton, 462-0031, and East St. Louis, 274-2200.

Regional Report--Rapid Transit Progress, More Park Land

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

Parks and recreation facilities made news in this region. Governor Richard Ogilvie signed a bill authorizing $750,000 for purchase of additional land at Cahokia Mounds State Park. This will be the second major land acquisition program at the park, which originally contained 224 acres.

Since 1966, when the state appropriated $1.5 million for an expansion program, additions have brought the total to 640 acres.

In other recreation news, Alton voters rejected by a two-to-one margin a tax proposal to purchase property around Alton State Hospital for a park; the East-West Gateway Transportation Council's Environmental Task Force has voted to ask the council to reconsider endorsing a plan to locate Interstate 255 through the middle of Frank Holten State Park in East St.

The Bethalto village board agreed to develop 10½ acres of land which was donated to the village for a park in the Chateau de Fluor Apartments area; and, in Edwardsville, the Jaycees announced hopes of having a rough draft of plans for a new, improved LeClaire Park completed within 10 days.

The St. Louis Car Division of General Steel Industries, Inc., has been selected by the Boeing Company's Vertical Division to build two advanced new "state of the art" rapid rail transit cars.

The U. S. Department of Transportation's Urban

Mass Transportation Administration is funding the project in an effort to make rapid transit more attractive by demonstrating the capabilities of current technology. GSI's Casting Division in Granite City will supply the new design, high speed trucks.

The East St. Louis Model City Agency plans 13 new projects in its third action year, scheduled to begin Oct. 1. An industrial development program is included in the planned projects, which are subject to the approval of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The program calls for funding of a comprehensive study of the potential for economic development under the new Illinois Constitution, and for travel funds for "marketing" the city's investment potential.

In other industrial development news, David R. Fickes resigned as executive vice-president of the Edwardsville Area Chamber of Commerce, effective Oct. 8. Fickes, who also serves as secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Metro East Corp., will assume a position with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, working out of Mattoon, Ill.

The Regional Industrial Development Corporation has now fully manned its Plant Location Division with the hiring of Joseph P. Hauser, a recent graduate of SIU-SW, as an additional plant location specialist.

RIDC's Plant Location Division is directly involved in efforts to encourage out-of-town companies to locate facilities in the bi-state St. Louis region and to assist local industry with facility expansions.

The executive advisory committee of the East-West Gateway Council tables discussing and endorsing the staff findings that the Waterloo, Ill., site for the proposed airport is consistent with regional plans until after a series of five public hearings on the airport are concluded in Missouri. The new hearings are expected to delay action on the airport authority's final application for federal funds at least a month.

The fall quarter at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern began this week with enrollment down more than 1,000 students from last fall's level.

The SIU board of trustees has approved a tentative operating budget request of $36.6 million for the local campus in the 1972-73 fiscal year. In other action, board members appointed Ramon Williamson and B. D. Hudgens as vice-presidents of SIU-SW.

In general area news, residents of Marissa and Old Marissa have approved a merger of the two villages; the East Alton board of trustees approved annexation of 78 lots of Rosewood Heights into the village.

Gov. Ogilvie signed legislation giving the Tri-City Regional Port District permission to operate a public incinerator to burn wastes; the seventh K-Mart store in the St. Louis area opened on Ill. 143 in Wood River.

Agreement has been reached on a new contract between Olin Corp. and the Western Employees' Trades Council of six unions at the Olin Works in East Alton; and John Gitchoff of Granite City was sworn in as a Madison County circuit judge.

Simon Urging Strict State Law on Income Disclosures

By PAUL SIMON
Illinois Lieutenant Governor

If what happened in Illinois politics this year doesn't make it "proof-positive" that we need strict income disclosure laws for all state elected officials and their key appointees, I don't know what else it would take.

For the sake of public confidence—if for no other reason than that—we must act. There is time in the legislative session to pass a meaningful income disclosure law.

A bill—not as strong as it should be—but an improvement—passed the Illinois Senate earlier and it is still alive in the House of Representatives.

If we fail to pass a strong measure, all of us who hold office will continue to suffer in the eyes of the public.

A nationally recognized polling agency disclosed a few years ago that 65% of the nation's voters believe that most elected public officials are in office mainly to fill their pockets.

If political leaders refuse to meet this crisis head-on, we jeopardize our system of government. And disclosure of income in detail, as well as assets and liabilities, is the only way to meet it head-on.

It is also the only way to meet the complex problem of conflict of interest. Put the matters on the table in public view and then the citizens can make reasonable judgments, whether we are serving ourselves, or serving the public.

Individual citizens must do something more than just read the headlines if legislators are to vote a meaningful disclosure law yet this year.

Here is what you can do:

- 1) Write letters to your state senator and state representative. Tell them you feel the time has come for income disclosure by public officials in Illinois.
- 2) Write a letter to the editor of your newspaper expressing your views on the subject.

3) Call radio "talk" shows and let the moderator hear what you have to say on the matter.

I have disclosed all of my income and the sources of that income during my 17 years of public life. My wife and children are part of that disclosure. My administrative assistants, along with my children, publish their income annually.

Disclosure of income hasn't hurt any of us. And it lets the public make informed judgments about our motivation in dealing with the issues which come before us.

SIU-SW to Make Use of State's Purchasing Plan

SIU-SW is requesting the assistance of the state purchasing agent and the Department of General Services in order to achieve more economical purchasing prices. Dr. John S. Rendleman, president, said this week.

We are impressed with the business-like basis on which the state purchasing office operates. We feel there are areas in which we can advantageously use their expertise on large volume purchases," the president said.

Southern Illinois University has been trying since early 1967 to get other state universities to organize a purchasing pool to take advantage of high volume buying. So far, these efforts have been unsuccessful.

Dr. Rendleman has requested that the Department of General Services and the state purchasing agent meet with Robert Murray, SIU-SW purchasing agent, to work out joint purchasing procedures compatible with the state's and SIU's fiscal systems.

Dr. Starr to Be Cited For Work in Hypnosis

An SIU-SW psychology professor, Dr. Fay H. Starr, will receive the 1971 Milton H. Erickson Award of Scientific Excellence for Writing in Hypnosis at the October meeting of the American Society of Clinical Hypnosis in Chicago.

Professor Starr's article, "The Remarriage of Multiple Regression and Statistical Inference: A Promising Approach for Hypnosis Researchers," was selected by the editorial board of the American Journal of Clinical Hypnosis for the Erickson Award. This will be the second year for the award.

The American Journal of Clinical Hypnosis is the official English language organ of the International Society of Sophrology and Psychosomatic Medicine.

Staff, Robot Monitors Help Curb State Water Pollution

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service
SPRINGFIELD — The Water Pollution Control Bureau of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is still hoping to add staff members to help in the bureau's work on water pollution surveillance.

John Forneris, who heads the bureau, said it is seeking engineers, sanitary inspectors and sanitarians. There has been a little delay in the hiring of the needed staff members because of a general hiring freeze order by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie. The bureau has surveillance teams scattered throughout the state assigned to various stations.

These stations are located on the Mississippi, Ohio, Illinois and Des Plaines Rivers basins and the Lake Michigan area. Also included in these areas are the various sub-basins such as the Fox, Sangamon, DuPage, Wabash, Saline, Big Muddy, Rock and Kaskaskia Rivers.

The surveillance section has the responsibility to determine if a water pollution violation does exist. If it does, then it must gain the needed information which can be used in successful prosecution of the polluter.

Once the information is gathered, it is turned over to the Legal Services section of the EPA. This information is evaluated and is sent either to the Attorney General's office or to the Illinois Pollution Control Board for further action or prosecution. Forneris said that presently his section is hopeful that two robot monitors can be successfully placed into operation. They are presently located at Havana and Peoria on the Illinois River.

The monitors are electrical devices which test pollution in the water. A "reading" on the water is received through a series of tests. The Chicago Sanitary District has successfully used the monitors in its war against pollution.

Forneris said that if the two prove to be successful on the Illinois River, the procedure could be expanded to other rivers.

Food for Thought

By SISTER CORNELIA

Did you notice children will respond more readily to your influence if, you are able to arouse their interest?

Shouldn't this be sufficient incentive for you to vary your approaches?

Many times parents complain that their words go in one ear and out the other. That is, if they even get in the ear to begin with.

Yet, the deadly monotony of identical commands, reproofs and explanations is sure to lead to apathetic reaction.

Therefore, it depends on the tone of voice in which you address the child. The more natural and livelier your expression, the more promptly will the child take notice.

Some people in conversing with others seem to adopt a dull, lifeless or even harsh tone of voice that provokes either unresponsiveness or a response that clearly implies one's desire to be let alone.

Everyone who deals with children encounters numerous situations where it seems to be impossible to effect rapport with the child. The youngster becomes so obstinate that no amount of talk or advice seems to influence him.

Such are the situations in which you are inclined to lose your self-control, because you cannot bear your feeling of helplessness.

One course of action that can be pursued in any situation, even when you are completely at a loss as to what to do, is to figure out what the child expects you to do next, and then do just the opposite.

Even when the child apparently ignores you completely, he is still counting on your reaction. No matter what happens, he is prepared for it and is determined to be unimpressed.

One can detect what a child expects, by observing what you feel inclined to do. Your own reactions generally correspond completely with the child's expectation—and are exactly what he wants and even provokes.

By doing the opposite, you catch the child off guard and throw him off balance. By doing this, you not only arouse his interest but force him to reconsider his attitude.

At least you gain a breathing spell which permits new approaches to the child and to the situation.

The following anecdote shows how easy it is to arouse a child's interest and to direct him into a particular reaction.

A man had been much annoyed by the youngsters of the village, who dogged his steps and made fun of his red hair.

Finally, he gathered them all together and promised to give each of them a penny every day if they would jeer with proper gusto. The boys were taken aback, but accepted the proposal with enthusiasm.

On the following day, they received the earned penny as agreed.

But on the fifth day, the man stopped payment. The boys were indignant.

"If the redhead won't pay," they explained, "we won't yell for nothing." And they went their ways.

Lieutenant Governor Simon has never come close to losing an election in which he participated, including the No. 2 state office three years ago even though the No. 1 post was being won by a Republican.

The Troy Democrat has always been able to see some good in citizens of both parties, and in turn people of all facets of the political spectrum have developed friendship and respect for him.

If we have ideological differences, they are not severe. Where we have disagreed, it has usually been when the more "left wing" of the two St. Louis papers lured him into what seemed to be an extreme policy stand.

If he is elected governor, we will probably suggest editorially that he not pay quite so much attention to the ultra-liberal voice from Missouri and a bit more heed to Illinoisans.

We have no way of knowing whether Simon's decision to "not accept nomination to any other state or federal post" will earn him the Chicago mayor's nod as an organization candidate for governor.

It could rankle Mayor Daley, but the mayor—unofficial state party leader—often has shown a pragmatic streak in his nature and just might embrace the inevitable, as he did last year in backing his non-friend, Adlai Stevenson III, for U. S. senator.

We always thought that Paul would try for Congress or the U. S. Senate, that he might regard the governor's mansion as a "dead-end" where a political career could be damaged simple reason that there are no excess profits to tax.

Last year, business profits, as a percentage of the Gross National Product, were at the lowest level since 1938. There has been a slight upturn this year but only slight.

Business profits for the past year averaged 2.3 cents per dollar of sales, the lowest in more than 15 years.

Between 1963 and the second quarter of 1971, government statistics show, the share of the national income for employee compensation went up from 69.5% to 75.8%. In the same period of time, the share for after-tax profits went down from 8.2% to 5.3%.

In 1938, income taxes took 20% of the pre-tax earnings of corporations. In the first half of 1971, the tax was 45%.

Profits are not easy to come by. Internal Revenue Service statistics show that 25% of the active business firms that filed returns in 1968—the latest figures available—did not make a profit.

If America is to have an economy which, within the next 10 years, will provide 10 million jobs—the number President Nixon reminds us will be needed—then, the American economy should not be thrown out of gear.

Entry of Paul Simon Adds a Lot of Class to The List of Announced Governor Candidates

We aren't even close to deciding who to vote for in the 1972 Illinois governor election. There will be plenty of time to make up our mind next year after the issues and candidates are in clearer focus. But we are happy to see Paul Simon "throw his hat in the ring," as he did this week; his entrance adds luster to the list of announced aspirants.

We are about the same age and both of us entered newspaper work at about the same time in the same county.

We stayed in the field of journalism but Paul soon took an interest in elective office and eventually dropped all of his associations with weekly newspaper ownership and operation. However, he has continued to utilize his excellent observation and communication skills by submitting occasional columns to Illinois newspapers.

Paul has changed, in a positive way, and so has our society. Where he once had to—and to some degree wanted to—buck the party professionals, he now converses often and confidently with them and has the support of many.

But his basic strength is still at the grassroots level, not in the "smoke-filled room." He has stamped not only his state representative and state senatorial districts but also much of the state, getting to know thousands and thousands of people—and remembering their names if he bumps into them five years later.

Lieutenant Governor Simon has never come close to losing an election in which he participated, including the No. 2 state office three years ago even though the No. 1 post was being won by a Republican.

rather than bolstered. But the fact that Illinois now has two relatively young and popular senators, Stevenson and Charles Percy, obviously has to be taken into account by any and all potential candidates.

Simon's shift in emphasis could become Illinois' gain. The issues facing Washington legislators are real and important, but so are the challenges facing those at the Illinois Capitol and in the other 49 state governments. It would be mighty interesting to see Paul Simon take up the administrative reins of the state and work through his cabinet and the General Assembly to implement his problem-solving proposals.

Now we'll leave our typewriter to hear tonight's "GOP Fall Festival" talk at SIU-SW by the other man likeliest to run in '72, Governor Ogilvie.

We'll See You at the United Fund's Yearly Fair Saturday, Sunday Afternoon, Evening

The third annual UF Fun Fair will be staged Saturday and Sunday, kicking off the yearly United Fund campaign, held during October.

A lot of fun is in store for those attending the fair, which is scheduled for the Wilson Park skating rink between 1 p.m. and 9 p.m. Oct. 2 and 3. Rides, booths, souvenirs, games, displays and entertainment will be available in abundance and there will be an opportunity to become better acquainted with the United Fund agencies and other Quad-City organizations.

Immediately after the weekend of the fair, the drive will be on in earnest to raise money to help the member agencies operate during 1972.

UF agencies include Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Association for the Retarded, Protestant Welfare, Catholic Charities, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Madison Teen Town, YMCA, Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, USO Club, Visiting Nurse Association, Alcoholics Rehabilitation, American Social Health Association, Arthritis Foundation, Health Services and Family Service Agency.

Both the Fun Fair and the United Fund campaign deserve and receive strong public support.

The park risk will be "the place to be" this Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evening. A wealth of enjoyment is in store for all who attend, and each person will be serving not only one good cause but many vital causes.

Now it can be told what flying saucers really are—they're taxpayers blowing their tops.

Fine Decision to Hold Mississippi River Festival Music Series for a Fourth Year

The decision to hold the Mississippi River Festival again in the summer of 1972, its fourth season, is genuinely good news.

The annual late-summer series of musical concerts has become one of this bi-state region's major assets, a drawing card for both visitors and permanent residents.

Support of the River Festival has grown remarkably, both in yearly attendance tallies and in the depth and breadth of its support among people of all walks of life and all ages. The public will look forward eagerly to the announcement of specific dates and guest artists in the coming months.

The trouble with the future is that it usually arrives before we are ready for it.

50 Years Ago Employment Starting to Recover

Industrial employment is still in a slump due to the post-World War drop in orders for her products. By the end of this month, the American Car & Foundry Co. will raise its work force from 700 back to 1,800. The Granite City Steel works is operating ten mills and expects to build back to a 2,400 employment total soon. American Steel Foundries is starting the fourth of its six furnaces. Commonwealth Steel Co. reports its 600 total will begin growing soon, and Temcor Corn & Fruit Products Co. is seeing an increase from its staff of 150 soon. Laclede Steel Co. is operating at half of capacity. St. Louis Coke & Chemical Co. is operating its ovens but not its blast furnace.

25 Years Ago 100 Attend Teachers' Musical Tea

There were 100 guests at a musical tea given in the Madison Presbyterian Church by the Madison Federation of Teachers. Presiding the program, there were organ selections by Mrs. John McElwain. During the tea, Miss Monica Wolfe and Charles Deitz entertained with musical numbers.

Mrs. Fred Pieper entertained her bridge club at Hotel Mark Twain in St. Louis. Dinner was served to the club members and a guest, Mrs. Theodore of Collinsville, and the evening was spent playing cards. Honors went to Mrs. Frank Aldridge, Mrs. Albert Perkins and Mrs. Roy Logan.

Mrs. Lawrence Powell, 2136 Lee Ave., was hostess to the Minnet Bridge Club. There were two tables, and honors went to Mrs. William Thome and Mrs. Earl Galloway. Mrs. Thomas Reese will have a party for the club in two weeks.

The Women's Society of Christian Service met at the home of Mrs. Eula Settle, 2233 Illinois Ave. Mrs. Zetta Hornbuckle was in charge of the lesson, which was on the 23rd Psalm. Others participating in the lesson were Mrs. Laura Hollis, Mrs. Golda Boyle and Mrs. Edith Rhodes.

The Women of the Moose held a regular meeting, with 31 members present. Four new members, Margaret McDonald, Hazel Fee, Ruth Harris and Betty Murvay, were initiated. Alice Bohnenstiel and Elizabeth Pippin furnished entertainment.

The socialist philosophy drew his attention and he helped form a local branch of that party in 1905. He became a Republican for a short time and ran for state representative on that ticket.

But he never fully accepted GOP beliefs and became an independent, with Democratic leanings.

When he died quietly July 7, 1962, at St. Elizabeth Hospital, the 59-year-old official had been chief executive of Granite City for 19 of the last 31 years, spanning the period between the city's 15th and 46th years.

Ill for nearly six months, he had undergone surgery and a series of treatments.

Despite extreme weakness, he kept his office open daily and attended numerous civic and wartime conferences until May, when he was no longer physically able to leave his home in the 2000 block of Edison Avenue and walk across the street to City Hall.

Before being confined to his home, he forced himself daily up the three flights of stairs to the mayor's office, clutching the rail for support all the way. A calendar on his desk bore the date of May 12, 1942, the last day that he was there.

Although bedfast after that, he continued to keep in touch with city officials. Fellow officials visited him frequently for advice. This taxed his strength and finally, at his own request, he was granted a leave of absence, beginning June 1.

With no further contact with affairs of the city, his condition

Mayor Kirkpatrick Elected 10 Times

The Rev. Dr. A. Ralph Lynn, who passed away this week, had the sad duty during his long career here of conducting many funerals. One of the largest and saddest was that in July 1942 of Mayor M. E. Kirkpatrick.

We did not want to let Granite City's Diamond Jubilee year go by without further discussing the impact on the 75-year-old city of such individuals as the late mayor, who was elected to that office ten times. His widow, Mrs. Pearl Ryckman, still resides here.

He made his first race for mayor in 1909, at the age of 27, losing to Charles A. Uzell. He was elected in 1911 and 1913 to two-year terms.

After the term of J. C. Steele, Kirkpatrick won a term in 1917, only to lose in 1919 to Bert Hodges. At this point, he started the first electrical store in Granite City and operated it for the rest of his life.

He again was elected mayor in 1927 and served three consecutive terms. Again out of office for a term, he resumed mayoralty duties in 1935 and served continuously from then until his final illness.

Completing nine two-year terms, he was elected for a tenth time in 1941, on this occasion for a four-year term. Alderman E. B. Grantham became acting mayor and then mayor, completing the term ending in 1945.

Marshall Everts Kirkpatrick was credited with conceiving and bringing into existence many civic improvements. Among them were a $150,000 City Hall, a $65,000 Public Library, the City Garage, miles of street paving and Ridgedale Homes, a low-cost housing project later named Kirkpatrick Homes in his memory. The initial 131-apartment portion was completed in 1941 at a cost of $750,000 in federal funds.

Eight thousand persons attended open house events in 1929 dedicating the city hall and library with Mayor Kirkpatrick and St. Louis Mayor Victor Miller delivering talks.

Still looking ahead in the early 1940s, he inspired the city's purchase of a block of ground on Madison Avenue with the hope that it would become the site of a recreation center.

He had a quiet, unassuming but persevering nature. He guided the city to its accomplishments without fanfare. Even his political enemies did not question his integrity.

He died a poor man, without money or property. In his desk was a small book containing dozens of initialed entries relating to loans amounting to thousands of dollars which he had given without security over a period of years.

Born near Oakland City, Ind., in December 1882, he taught school there as a young man. It was to become a teacher here that he came to Granite City in 1903 but instead he went to work as a shipman at Granite City Steel Co.

The other note, to political and civic associates, said in part, "May I tell you now what I could not in life, that my experiences over these many years in our city political affairs have been saddening experiences."

"I came into politics as a young man, as an idealist and dreamer."

"I had such a high idea of nearly everybody being interested in their government, with the possibility of intelligent understanding of it, and the general desire to work out things for the common good."

"But over these years I learned that there was so much indifference and lack of concern about the common welfare, that so many were only concerned about their own personal, selfish interests."

Approaching death stilled his hand at this point and the note was not finished.

If he had finished it, many think he would have ended it with the kind of positive attitude which had enabled him to serve so effectively the community that he loved.

SIU Computers Help Solve Crystallography Riddles

By PETE BROWN
SIU News Service

Late in 1965, some geologists working in Greenland discovered a silicate mineral unlike anything they'd ever seen. Because it defied immediate description they named it aenigmatite, from Latin and Greek roots that give us the word "enigma" — mysterious, puzzling, etc.

Crystallography was in its infancy then and all efforts to classify aenigmatite failed. No one could figure out its puzzling molecular structure.

Even after the discovery of x-ray techniques in 1912, aenigmatite remained an enigma. But lately the whole field of "structural discovery" in minerals has exploded with the advent of computers and diffraction devices. A year or so ago the prestigious Cambridge University crystallography group of D. McKie undertook the task of trying to unravel the molecular secrets of this century-old piece of Greenland.

After a year they gave up. McKie sent the stuff to Jen-Ho Fang, head of the crystallography research laboratory in Southern Illinois University's geology department.

Solve the Riddle

After nine months, pounds of computer cards and maybe miles of computer tape, Fang and his associate Paul Robinson cracked the aenigmatite riddle. It was one of four discoveries chalked up by the SIU group in the past year.

It's all sort of esoteric business to the layman, but to the experts, SIU's x-ray diffraction laboratory is probably the best in the state and, for what it does (minerals structure research), ranks with the biggest like UCLA.

The discovery process starts with a dust-sized speck of crystal which is rotated in an x-ray beam. The intensity of the resulting diffractions is measured on a radiation counter. Then it gets into mathematics, computer predictions and all that.

For the aenigmatite investigation, Fang and Robinson used 2,582 reflections, that is, x-y-z coordinates to four decimal places.

Virtually all crystal structures have a molecular pattern that repeats itself over and over, like wallpaper. The SIU group discovered that aenigmatite had a "pseudo structure," a freaky occurrence that popped up intermittently in the pattern. The freak is what had every body baffled for all those years.

This structure of endymite (sodium beryllium silicate), mendotite (sodium-aluminum phosphate-hydrate) and kaineite (potassium-magnesium-sulphate-hydrate). The latter is a source of potassium mined in the west.

Much of the work, is done with precious and semi-precious stones, and some of these are cooked up in the lab itself, combining oxides in a 1,400 degree centrifuge furnace and letting the molten mass cool slowly at one degree per hour—a re-enactment of what went on during the earth's fiery beginning.

It's fortunate that Fang and Co. don't need much material, working at a level where only x-rays and radiation counters can tell what's going on.

Diamonds? Cheap merchandise. One structure they've worked on is that of alexandrite: a little old jewel of a gemstone that would cost you $1,000 a carat if you could get it at Tiffany's.

The Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics will hold its 23rd annual meeting Nov. 12-13 at the University of Illinois.

This year's program will be directed toward administrators as well as teachers at the elementary, junior high, senior high, junior college and college levels.

Registration is 5:45 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 12, and will be followed by dinner in the Illinois Union at which Harold P. Plant Machine Stolen A $12,000 "Case" front end loader, yellow in color, was stolen in a burglary at the American Colloid Co., 1601 Walnut St., during the night. It was reported this week. A gate was rammed to break a chain and padlock. The main gate was forced and a window air conditioner was removed to gain entry to the office which was ransacked. A soda machine was broken open in the plant area.

Alarm Foils Burglary A burglar alarm apparently foiled an attempted break in at Pete & Mary's Tavern, 2409 Lincoln Ave., this week. A fan was removed from a window on the east side of the building into a storage room, setting off the alarm, police said. Owners reported nothing was taken.

Lawnmower Stolen Cassie Finley, 1723 State St., reported this week that a 3½-horsepower lawnmower was stolen from her back porch.

Church Youth Plans Open House Friday The Youth of Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave., enjoyed a hay ride and wieners roast at Middlegate Farms, Glen Carbon, last week.

About 100 youth and adult sponsors attended the event. Monte Kindle and Dean Olive led the campfire service. Mr. Kindle led singing and accompanied the group on his guitar. He sang "The Man in the Sky" and "Take Up Thy Cross." Rev. Olive, a senior at Granite City High and a member of Second Baptist Church, delivered a message on the "Reality of Christ."

Plans were revealed for an "Open House" tomorrow night after the football game at the youth center next to the church. All senior and junior high youth are invited to attend.

FAMED DESIGNER to work at SIU-SW. R. Buckminster Fuller, left, internationally famous designer, will open an office at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. The announcement was made at a press conference by SIU-SW President John S. Rendleman.

R. B. Fuller to Open Office at SIU-SW

R. Buckminster Fuller, internationally known designer and theoretician, will open an office on the campus of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, SIU-SW President John S. Rendleman has announced.

Fuller has been a member of the SIU faculty since 1959 and was named University professor of design in 1968. He has maintained an office at the Carbonade campus of SIU and also has a home in Carbonade. The office on the Southwestern campus will permit Fuller to spend more time on a massive geodesic dome design proposed for the East St. Louis riverfront. President Rendleman said at a news conference, Fuller indicated he also wants to explore the possibilities of establishing his World Game on Southwestern campus.

Fuller described East St. Louis as "America's sub-Calcutta" and said conditions for humanity there are the "most unpromising I know of anywhere."

"John Rendleman is my old friend and I want to help him make his campus as useful to society as I can. We need to develop new strategies for living and for education," Fuller said. He indicated the East St. Louis project should "set standards for all the world to follow."

Dome Originator Fuller is best known as the originator of the geodesic dome and as the father of the World Game, which uses gaming strategies and scenarios to develop a simulated rational redistribution of the world's resources and energy. Computers are used extensively to store information required in the World Game concept. The dome and World Game, however, are only two of a series of inventions, realizations and discoveries that Fuller has charted in the last half century. Fuller's life-long credo has been "do more with less," in his effort to "make the world work."

In his 76 years, Fuller has also been cited as a philosopher, engineer, poet, futurist, revolutionary, visionary and maverick architect without portfolio. The SIU professor's formal education ended prior to completion of a college degree, but he has received 26 honorary doctoral degrees, including one from Oxford University in England.

Fuller also is known for his tetrahedron floating city concept which calls for new cities to be designed in modular components. The study for such a city was commissioned by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Toronto and Tokyo have expressed interest in furthering the idea.

Fuller holds a patent on geodesic domes and more than 10,000 domes have been erected in 50 countries throughout the world. Two are on the SIU-SW at Southwestern. One located on the 98th meridian is part of the new religious center to be dedicated next month and another furnishes shelter for the campus Cougar mascot.

Built World River Dome Two of Fuller's largest domes were built for Union Tank car structures. There is one at Wood River, Ill., which is 384 feet in diameter.

Fuller has been written about and recognized throughout the world. In 1968 the American Institute of Architects presented him its first Architectural Design Award in recognition of his work on the American pavilion for the 1967 World's Fair at Montreal. Fuller is an associate member of AIA. He also received the AIA Gold Medal in 1970.

In 1968 the National Institute of Arts and Letters presented him its Gold Medal for Architecture, and the Royal Institute of British Architects recommended him for the British Royal Gold Medal which was presented by Queen Elizabeth.

In 1967 he received the Order of Lincoln Medal from the Lincoln Academy of Illinois and in 1969 he was named Humanist of the Year by the American Association of Humanists.

Fuller is a widely known speaker on "planet earth," which he often terms a "space ship."

During the summer, two children died of lead poisoning in the state, a 10-year-old girl in Rockford and a 17-month-old girl in Aurora.

Dr. Philip Fine, who heads the program for the public health department, said initial reports from the 10 communities where testing clinics were held indicated that incidence rates of children with more than 40 micrograms of lead in blood levels have been fairly uniform throughout the state.

Most of the confirmed cases with dangerously high levels have come from areas considered generally "high risk" health areas, where housing is often old and deteriorated with lead based paints on plaster, wallpaper and woodwork.

A total appropriation of $100,000 was made for the study, with $48,100 coming from the state and $51,900 from federal funds.

Additional money is forthcoming next year, the program will be resumed next summer, Dr. Fine said.

During the test, which is basically a brief one involving taking a small blood sample for each youngster, tests are also run for sickle cell counts and serological screening, Dr. Fine said, indicating the child's resistance to diphtheria, rubella, measles, polio and tetanus.

Tested during the two months were 449 children in Aurora, 670 in Springfield, 387 in Peoria, 376 in St. Louis, 183 in Decatur, 280 in Joliet, 479 in Rock Island-East Moline, 166 in suburban Cook county and 200 in Carbonade.

Children who were not available for Rockford where the program just wound up but who are expected to undergo tests there.

Dr. Fine termed the program "highly successful" and said of youngsters with dangerously high levels, it was found that roughly one-third were located in the Chicago area, another one-third came from cities between 10,000 and 150,000 population and one third lived in rural areas or cities with less than 10,000 population.

Immediate treatment is recommended for children whose testing shows 80 micrograms, Dr. Fine said, and immediate hospitalization is urged for children with counts of 100 micrograms.

Treatment medically termed chelation is relatively simple, requiring only one of several readily available drugs and no special equipment, and usually takes about a week. However, treatment can only remove lead from the patient's body; it cannot reverse any retardation or other damage which has already resulted.

Testing is done during summer months, Dr. Fine said, because exposure to sunlight tends to bring stored lead out of bones and tissues, where it remains largely inert, and into the bloodstream where it becomes mobile and therefore dangerous.

Dr. Fine said the program could not have succeeded as it had without active cooperation from community officials and civic groups.

"The testing program demonstrated a very real problem," he said.

Lead Poisoning Tests Completed

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD—Testing for dangerous levels of lead in the blood of Illinois children between one and six years of age has ended for this year, with more than 5000 children tested in a two month period.

Final tabulations of results will not be released for some time by the state's department of public health, which conducted the tests in the nation's first state-wide testing program for lead poisoning.

During the summer, two children died of lead poisoning in the state, a 10-year-old girl in Rockford and a 17-month-old girl in Aurora.

Dr. Philip Fine, who heads the program for the public health department, said initial reports from the 10 communities where testing clinics were held indicated that incidence rates of children with more than 40 micrograms of lead in blood levels have been fairly uniform throughout the state.

Third Stevenson on National Democratic Ticket Forecast

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield—Like father like son. Statehouse veterans are convinced that U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III is running for vice-president just like his father, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson II, ran for president.

The Stevenson strategy is to insist you don't want it, while at the same time doing all you can to get it. The strategy worked twice for Adlai II and would surprise few at the Statehouse if it brought the 1972 Democratic nomination for vice-president to Adlai III.

The elder Stevenson soared to national prominence as a result of this 1948 landslide victory for governor over Republican Dwight Green, who persisted in a third-term try despite a number of administrative scandals. Adlai II also was carrying on a family political tradition, his paternal grandfather, the first Adlai E. Stevenson of Bloomington, having been vice-president in the administration of Grover Cleveland.

Then, at now, the Democratic Party nationally was lacking in new young leaders with "charisma." Stevenson II, who had a rare gift of eloquence, was soon attracting a stream of national correspondents to Springfield in a number unmatched since the Lincoln funeral.

To questions of whether he was interested in the 1952 presidential nomination Stevenson invariably answered that he was interested only in being a good governor in Illinois.

Nevertheless, however, his brilliant and then young press aide, William I. Flanagan, was directing the compilation of an imposing biographical brochure which helped convince many a visiting newsmen that he was talking to a man who would someday be president.

Flanagan is now on the staff of Adlai III. Stevenson II became increasingly in demand as a speaker at party functions in various parts of the country. His legend grew and, by a stroke of good fortune, the national convention was held at Chicago.

In the end, all it took was a little boost from President Harry S. Truman and Stevenson was the nominee.

Stevenson III, although lacking the oratorical brilliance of his father, has a number of compensating advantages. The name has already made him sought as a frequent participant in the important national television panel shows. He can count on widespread coverage of whatever comments he might make on major issues.

He has already made the standard Vietnam trip and a reaped the publicity windfall. To the inevitable question as to whether he would like to run for vice-president or even president next year, he gives the usual answer that being senator is the height of his political ambitions. Nobody, of course, believes it.

In fact, if there is such a thing as a frontrunner for vice-president, Stevenson is it.

Should Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine be nominated for president, Stevenson would be a natural to balance the ticket with a Midwesterner. The same would hold true if U. S. Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington should get the nod. One thing the Statehouse is sure about. Young Adlai would not turn the nomination down. He might be reluctant, but he would run. Just like dad.

Strikes Rear of Truck A hit and run motorist struck the rear bumper and tailgate of the truck of Carl L. Shelton, 1415 Iowa St., on McCormick Avenue at 11th Street in Madison this week. Shelton reported he was northbound on McCormick Avenue when a car struck the right rear of his truck and drove away. Shelton chased the car several blocks but could not catch it.
